7 suspects nabbed for rash of car burglaries

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

Seven suspects are facing charges in connection with 40-50 car burglaries in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin.

Following a month-long investigation, the Lindenhurst Police Department apprehended the suspects after they were seen breaking into cars while under surveillance near Mallard Ridge Apartments, said Lindenhurst Police Chief Rich Jablonski.

Steven Okray, 18, McHenry, was arrested April 6 at the scene after he was chased by police officers. Subsequent questioning led officers to five juveniles and one adult also involved in the crimes.

"We've cleared up all our car burglaries in Lindenhurst," said Jablonski, "and 40-50 car burglaries are cleared up in the area."

Okray is being held on six counts of burglary. Richard Cheterbok, 18, Antioch,

'We're looking for eight victims that didn't report. In order to successfully prosecute the case, we need to have victims,'—Antioch Police Lt. Charles Watkins.

was arrested April 8 on four counts of burglary.

The juveniles, all from the Round Lake area, face charges of burglary or receiving stolen property. Their cases will be referred to juvenile court.

In addition to the Lindenhurst Police Department, squads from Antioch and Lake Villa were involved in the cooperative stake-out.

Charges may also be brought against the suspects by other departments. In Antioch, Okray is charged with four counts of burglary, according to Antioch Police Lt. Charles Watkins. Questioning of Okray by Antioch Police Det. Ronald elicited information to make the six other arrests.

According to Jablonski, all suspects, except Cheterbok, have admitted to their roles in the incidents. The department has recovered property from 20 victims.

Antioch police are looking for the owners of property recovered after the arrests were made in the village.

"We're looking for eight victims that didn't report," said Antioch Police Lt. Charles Watkins, "in order to successfully prosecute the case, we need to have victims."

Included among the items recovered are radar detectors, cassette tapes and a brief case. To claim their belongings, victims should contact Det. Roth, 395-8585.

Feeder schools wait for Dist. 117's next move

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

The failure of the Antioch Community High School eliminates, for now, one option of dealing with the space crisis in Dist. 117 feeder schools. Antioch Dist. 34 and Lake Villa Dist. 41 had supported the construction of a new high school and the alternative of utilizing space in the existing building.

"The board will be looking at what their options are, depending on the position the high school takes as to whether or not they rerun the proposition past the voters again," said Dist. 41 Supt. Dr. Peter Palumbi.

Palumbi and Dist. 34 Supt. Dr. Donald Skidmore stated that they will wait to see what action the Dist. 117 board will take before any decision is made regarding permanent solutions to the space shortage.

"We have agreed to let the high school have one more chance at a referendum before doing anything permanent," said Skidmore.

According to Dist. 117 Supt. Gary Allen, the board will be examining the prospect of another referendum in November. However, he notes that the board has some time to consider the options and an immediate decision is not expected.

In the meantime, Dist. 34 is engaging temporary solutions to the classroom shortage. Bids are being sought for the leasing of portable classrooms.

In Dist. 41, alternatives are being examined pending a decision by the Dist. 117 board. Should another attempt at a referendum fail or fail to materialize, the Dist. 41 board will consider building additions on to Pleviak or Lake Villa Intermediate School or both.

According to Palumbi, B.J. Hooper School is currently at maximum capacity. The district's long range plan is to try to house 750 students in each school.

Working for walleye

Illinois Department of Conservation workers haul in traps in search of Chain walleye which will be brought back to Spring Grove Hatchery for breeding. The Spring Grove Hatchery is slated for closing due to state budget cuts, but anglers and conservationists are fighting to keep it operating. See story on page 9.—Photo by Claudia M. Lenart

Recount sought

WAUCONDA — Village trustee candidates Louise Moore, Ted Kipp and Dan Stegeman are not down for the count yet following last week's elections. All three candidates will be back in the ring after filing for discovery recounts, which will take place today at the Lake County clerk's office in Waukegan. In the election for three four-year trustee terms, incumbent and Wauconda Unified Party leader James Eschenbauch won easily with 887 votes. Independent Chris Weiler took a seat with 636 votes, and Unified Party member David Wanshek got 620 votes to grab a chair. Stegeman — on the Unified slate — received 617 votes, while incumbents and Citizen Party candidates Kipp and Moore garnered 616 and 614 votes, respectively. Citizens Party member Ken Sjorslev received 563 votes.

New liquor license

LIBERTYVILLE — Over the objection of two village board members and neighborhood residents, Condell Memorial Hospital's health facility, the Center Club, has been granted a new liquor license to serve beer and wine to members and non-members. Until now, it could only serve such alcoholic beverages with meals. Residents say this is the hospital's way of gradually seeking a full-service liquor license, which was rejected following neighborhood opposition of one year ago.

Water disappears

MUNDELEIN — Fifteen million gallons of water disappeared last year. This was part of a record pumping year for the village water utility, but it disappeared along with the 2 percent it would have added to village revenues. The village treasurer and water superintendent will attempt to determine where it went. One explanation is that it was used for flushing new water mains in the sixth and last year of a six-year replacement program.

Fight court

FOX LAKE — Trustee Kenneth Hamsher said he will oppose renewal of a lease with Lake County for a branch Circuit Court in the village hall. "Our village hall isn't big enough. The court attracts people who don't belong in our village," Hamsher said court visitors mess up the parking lot and hard on the building when they get fined. "The little rent we get isn't worth the inconvenience to our citizens," Hamsher declared. The lease is up Nov. 30.

New Condell facility

BUFFALO GROVE — Condell Medical Center has approval to move ahead with plans for a new immediate care facility in Buffalo Grove. The 28,000 square foot facility located at Route 22 and Buffalo Grove Road near the Woodland Commons shopping center will provide space for physician offices, immediate care, physical therapy and lifestyle and wellness programs.

Sewer pact OK

GURNEE — Three months of negotiations between the Village of Gurnee and Lake County has resulted in an agreement to end a two-year court battle. The Lake County Board approved the settlement agreement by a 16-6 vote Tuesday. At issue is the sanitary sewer service for more than 2,100 acres of land annexed by Gurnee. It includes 1,500 acres as the "Grand-Hunt" property, west of Hunt Club Rd. and south of Rte. 132 and the Merit Club property off Rte. 120.

Developers Lexington Homes and the Zale Group have developments slated for that land. The agreement also calls for 20 acres off Washington St. to be donated to Woodland Dist. 50.

Boundaries set

LINDENHURST — Expansion of the villages of Lindenhurst and Gurnee will stop at Rte. 45 according to terms of an intergovernmental agreement approved April 8. Valid for a period of 20 years, the boundary agreement may be amended by mutual agreement of the two villages. Under terms outlined in the pact, the Village of Gurnee is restricted from annexing any property located west of Rte. 45. The Village of Lindenhurst may not annex any property on the east side of the road.

Sewer approved

LAKE VILLA — The wait is finally over for the Village of Lake Villa. Five years of negotiations came to a close April 9 with the passage of a sewer agreement by the Lake County Board. The agreement allows the village to tap into the county's Fox Lake Wastewater Treatment Facility. Mayor Joyce Frayer anticipates that construction could begin by the fall of 1991, with completion targeted for summer, 1992.

Study police policy

PARK CITY — The city council of Park City will consider changing a present ordinance to make life safer for police department employees and their families. City will consider repealing a section of an ordinance pertaining to police schedules when it meets April 18. Park City Mayor Rob Allen suggested the change last week, sparking a debate between himself and aldermen. Next week's meeting will begin at 7 p.m. at Park City Community Center.

Three months ago, the quiet calm of Joan and Allen Mitchell's life was shattered when they discovered that their daughter, Stephanie, had a drug problem.

The signs had been there for months: falling grades, absenteeism, moodiness, lack of respect, lying and defensiveness. Yet, the signs went unheeded. Joan and Allen thought it was just adolescence, typical teenage problems. Unfortunately, they were wrong. It was something far more serious.

Stephanie had a drug problem. The first person to recognize it was one of Stephanie's teachers, who called the Mitchells and made them aware of her concern. Fortunately, they acted quickly and sought professional help.

They turned to the specialists at the Adolescent Chemical Dependency Program at Victory Memorial Hospital. Here, they found a comprehensive program that not only helped Stephanie with her problem, but helped them understand the role that they would play in maintaining Stephanie's continued health.

Today, Stephanie is her old self, back at school and doing well. The family is stronger, closer and able to weather almost anything.

Some stories do have happy endings, and many of them begin at Victory Memorial Hospital. For complete information on our Chemical Dependency Program, or to confidentially discuss a problem confronting your family, call 708-688-HELP, anytime day or night.

College board honors CLC faculty of the year

Kenneth Simonsen, humanities and philosophy instructor at the College of Lake County, was presented with the Faculty of the Year award at the monthly board of trustees meeting held at the Grayslake campus.

Simonsen, a resident of Mundelein, has taught at CLC for the past 19 years. As an educator, he is committed to positive change and challenges his students to think globally. Simonsen's belief is that education is most significant when it has a direct impact on life. He has led CLC study tours to over 30 countries visiting countries such as Bali, Java and Bangkok. Last summer he was one of two community college teachers in the nation to receive a Fulbright grant to study in India.

Another CLC employee will be honored by the board of trustees. Laura Eveland of Waukegan, will be presented with the Distinguished Alumnus Award. Eveland is currently head child care facilitator at CCL's Child Care Center.

Need two members Commission seeks input on village redevelopment

The Village of Antioch Redevelopment Commission is seeking to members to fill two vacant posts. Prospective members may call the village hall, 395-1000 for more information.

The commission oversees the village's tax incremental financing (TIF) district and TIF funding.

Since its establishment in 1985, the commission has completed a number of projects in the downtown Antioch area. Included among these accomplishments are the following: improvements valued at approximately $250,000 within the district, increased sales and sales tax base within the district, as well as loss prevention; construction of parking lot behind east side of Main St.; purchase of two building (one now leased and generating income for the TIF District and one demolished to provide parkway entry to the area back of Main St.; facade improvement in four buildings in the central business district through low-interest loans.

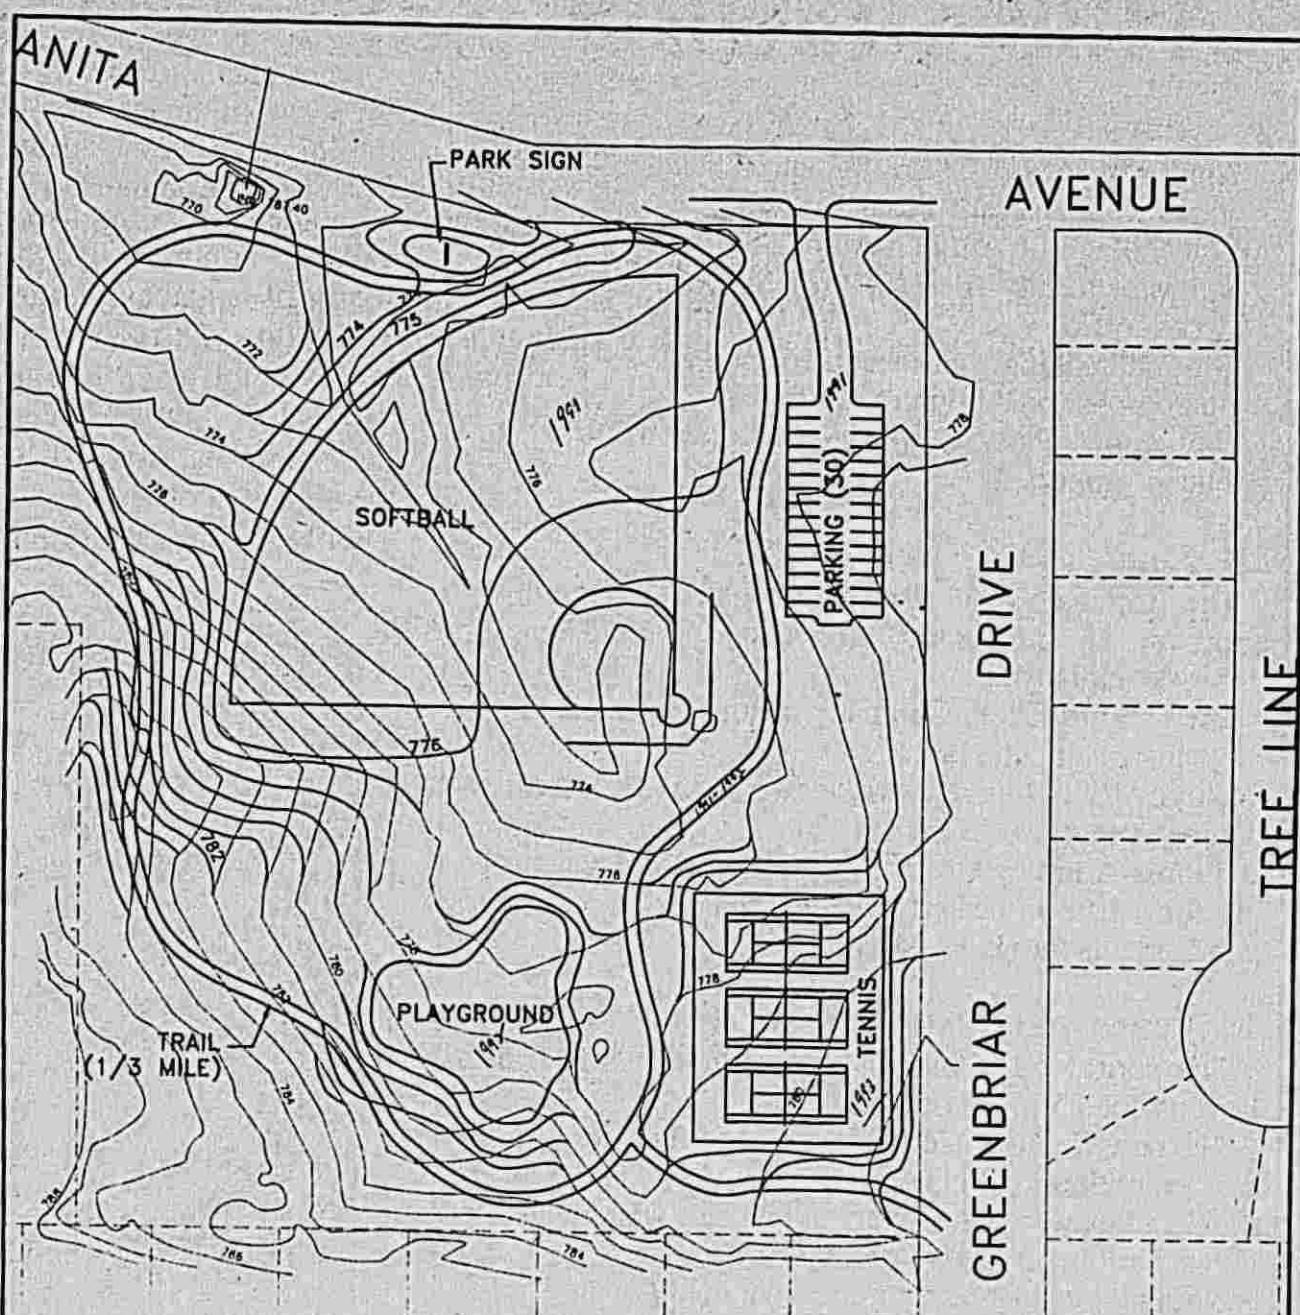

Additionally, several projects are now in progress. They are as follows: traffic signal at intersection of Main and Orchard; new procedure to enforce village codes for TIF District garbage and trash containment and pick up, with notices to district business manager and property owners' tree-trimming within the district; cooperation and resources provided to the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry on a variety of projects, creation of Taste of Antioch during Maxwell Street Days, sponsorship of a theme contest to promote shopping and tourism, momentum toward first registration of Antioch businesses to facilitate safety and communication, identification of priorities for downtown appearance improvements, and initiative toward a new central business district association (Community Action Now) with first seed money of $2,000.

CAN will hold a day-long retreat, Tuesday, May 21, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, Gurnee. The purpose of the retreat will be to take steps toward the establishment of a central management district for the revitalization of downtown Antioch. Consultant Bert Stitt will be featured at the event.

In addition to the objectives of CAN, the redevelopment commission is also considering future projects such as extension of Orchard St., creation of a new road, implementation of a plan to improve the back of buildings and public parking on the east side of Main St., and brochures to promote tourism and to inform current and new residents and businesses.

Opening soon

Construction will soon be underway for Anita Park, near the Anita Street apartments. In 1991, the softball field, parking lot and walking path will be completed. The playground is targeted for 1992 completion and the tennis courts will be constructed in 1993.

Anita Park takes shape

The crack of the bat may be heard at Antioch's Anita Park by the year's end. Construction is set to begin on the new 7.5 acre park planned on Anita St., south of Greenbriar and adjacent to the Anita Street apartments.

Included in the construction costs are $25,000 for a softball field, $25,670 for a 30-car parking lot, $11,000 for a walking path around the perimeter, $39,000 for tennis courts, and $40,000 to $50,000 for a playground area.

The softball field, parking lot and walking path are targeted for completion by the end of the year. The playground is scheduled to be built in 1992 and the tennis courts in 1993.

The park plan was submitted by Steve Wikner of the Waukegan Park District. The Antioch Village Board of Trustees unanimously accepted the proposal.

Branch banking

The Antioch Lions and Rotary Clubs present seed money for the Arbor Day tree planting program. Each club raised $1,500 for the project to plant 2,000 seedlings and 25-35 mature trees on park district property, particularly that behind Hiram Buttrick Sawmill Park. From left are, (front) Lions Club President-elect Tim Osmond, Mayor Robert Wilton, Lions Club President Chuck Cermak, (back) event organizer Bud Newton, Bill Vos of the building department, Dave Horton, Tom Hubner and Dave Bull of the public works department, and building commissioner Chick Carstensen and Al Little Chairman of the Commission on the Environment.—Photo by Mary Sullivan.

Traffic signals slated for Rte. 83 intersection

Traffic lights are scheduled to be installed at the intersection of Rte. 83 and Petite Lake Road.

The Lake Villa Village Board of Trustees approved the plan in response to a number of accidents which have occurred near the site. Following a request by Lake Villa Mayor Joyce Frayer, the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) authorized a five mile per hour decrease in the speed limit and cited the need for a traffic light.

With a waiting list for such projects, the installation was not expected for as long as 10 years. However, according to Frayer, negotiations with State Rep. Robert Churchill helped expedite the project which should be completed by 1992.

The village will pay the electrical costs of operating the signals. IDOT will pay for installation.

A bid for installation of traffic signals on Main and Orchard Streets was awarded by the Antioch Village Board of Trustees, April 1. Benson Electric Company was awarded the job with a bid of $66,100.

ACHS video program opens communication

The Antioch Community High School (ACHS) Student Assistance Program is now offering information and registration for an innovative video-based program designed to help parents communicate with their teenagers.

Called "Active Parenting of Teens," the program features over 60 video vignettes on relevant and timely topics concerning today's teens. The video-based group discussion program gives parents support and confidence, as well as practical ideas and ways to effectively raise teens in today's confusing world.

During the course, parents learn skills of encouragement, discipline and communication with other parents under the guidance of an experienced group leader. They learn concepts and theories and then discover methods of putting these theories into use in dealing with issues such as helping their teen cope with the pressures of sex, drugs and alcohol.

The course will be offered in three, two and a-half hour sessions, beginning Wednesday, May 1 and ending Wednesday, May 15; or two, three and a-half hour sessions on Saturday, May 11 and May 18. A $15 fee will be charged to cover the cost of the book that comes with the course.

To register, call Cathy Catty or Tom Baba, 395-1421. Specify preference as to Wednesday or Saturday dates.

Another dental visit

So, I went to the dentist's office to pick up my "new" teeth which consisted of new uppers and a first time ever lower partial. Because it has been many years without a comedian and Tia Chinn did a great job in this area (once she stopped laughing at her own jokes). The cheerleader scouts, Brigitte Leonard, Shelly Schaaf, and Amber Gore did a great job cheering on the spelling of Girl Scout and only easy but also very enjoyable and rewarding.

Lotus School

The junior high at Lotus School of Fox Lake Dist. #114 is a busy place of learning. In addition to their regular Social Studies' subjects of World History, Geography, U.S. History, Government, and Current Events, the students have focused on the U.S. Bill of Rights in its 200th year and on the war in the Persian Gulf, its causes and related problems. Many of the junior high students have pen pals in the Soviet Union and our soldiers in the Gulf. As Earth Day approaches emphasis will be placed on environmental issues. In Math the eighth graders are engaged in solving equations and inequalities. The seventh grade math students are working with graphs and the sixth graders are studying geometry. It has definitely been a busy and interesting year for these Lotus Junior High students.

And they're off!

Have you gone to the dogs yet? As you all know I have, that is at Dairyland Greyhound Race Track in Kenosha. We recently went to bet our small wads on our favorite dogs and once again had a fun evening. This time we took along Sylvia and Tom Vaughan, friends visiting us from Chicago and they are also now hooked on this sporting event. The evening races begin at 7:30 p.m. There are thirteen races and eight different dogs participate in each of the thirteen races. You can enjoy a dinner at the track or partake in the many different snacks and drinks sold from the various food stations. The track is only about 20-25 minutes from Antioch and if you haven't given it a try, save your pennies and do so. I really don't think you will be sorry. By the way does anyone know where "Gamblers Anonymous" meets?

Spring fling

The Lindenhurst Park Dist. will be sponsoring their Third Annual Spring Fling Craft Show, Saturday, April 27, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at B.J. Hooper School, Lindenhurst.

Hometown Goodies

since I was without several of my lower teeth, the partial is an obvious adjustment for me. The dentist instructed me to practice saying long words utilizing the letter "S" (such as Mississippi) and soon I would be able to talk again without slurring my words. As I waited in the lobby for my hubby to pick me up, I noticed a van pull into the parking lot. However, I forgot that the driver never vacated the van. After a while, I decided to leave the lobby and wait outside, as it was a beautiful day. Once outside I remembered the dentist's suggestion and I repeated (out loud), about six times, the word Mississippi. After doing fairly well by that particular word, I decided to practice with a recitation of "The Pledge of Allegiance" (again out loud). At the end of my recitation, I caught a glimpse of something from the corner of my left eye. That's right, folks, the man who never vacated the van was sitting there with his window cranked down a bit, reading a paper or possibly pretending to be reading it. I chuckled to myself as I read his thoughts "Crazy lady from Mississippi reciting the pledge". That's what I get for being so eager to practice with my new pearly whites.

Awards dinner

On Wednesday, March 20, Girl Scout Troop #1134 had their special "Court of Awards" program and pot luck dinner. The festivities opened with the "ceremony of the lights" and then the girls sang a special song. Next three of the scouts, dressed as Egyptians, sang "Cleopatra Should Have Been a Girl Scout" to the tune of "When the Saints Come Marching In". Lori Loef did a beautiful job singing a solo "On My Honor" and the fashion show that followed was terrific. What is a show Tami Edelman did a great job reciting a poem (even though her little brother Robert giggled a bit). The entire troop of nineteen girls assembled to sing "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and then led everyone in a Grace stomp before partaking in the delicious pot-luck dinner of spaghetti, sloppy joes, jellies, salads, fruit, desserts, coffee and juice. There went my diet again!!

Rewarding experience

As you all know, I really do enjoy writing this column. However, every now and then I enjoy writing it a little more than usual. This is one of those times as it is providing me with a very special way to say "Thank-You" in response to a "Thank you". As you know, from a previous column, I recently assisted Marie Brausam in teaching Girl Scout Troop #1134 how to assemble shoe lace and ribbon barrettes and also paint patriotic pins and earrings. As a result of this, Pam Cardis, the troop leader, and all of the members of the troop extend us a beautiful invitation to attend their "court of awards" program. During the course of the evening Marie and I were each presented a beautiful yellow mum plant, bound by a pretty yellow ribbon. Pam suggested we plant it in our gardens and as it blooms each year we would be reminded of the time spent with the girls and remember how appreciative they were of our efforts. While we will truly remember and cherish the memory of being thanked so graciously, we want all of the girls of Troop #1134 to know and believe the pleasure was truly all ours. We will never forget the warm welcome you extended to us each time we arrived at the meetings and your cooperation, excitement, enthusiasm, and talents made our job not

Letter to the Editor

Constitutional voice

Editor:

In last week's issue, Marilyn and Bob Shineflug attempted to lambast me for an earlier letter indicating my resentment of Donald Skidmore's taking sides in village politics. Their diatribe both misses the mark by a mile and gives support to my basic premise, i.e., that it is improper and immoral for an appointed school administrator to so fully align himself with one faction in village politics.

The Shineflug claim that I could not possibly understand how Mr. Skidmore could involve himself as chairman of the Unity party and yet still be fully able to work with everyone in the village without problem. Of course, they carefully omit the fact that they were among the biggest monetary contributors to the Unity party, or obviously, they would have no problem dealing with Mr. Skidmore.

They also claim that my letters have been divisive and without positive contribution. The divisions existed long before I began writing letters last month. Last summer, for example, Marilyn publicly berated Leta Wilton for allegedly authoring some leaflets on the basis of handwriting analysis "evidence," and then cut off a rebuttal by pushing through an "ethics ordinance." Apparently she like to make the rules but not live by them.

Additionally, given the fact that she likes to spend lots of village money on incredibly expensive out of town lawyers, she is of the opinion that may suggestion to use the money instead for civic improvements was not a positive suggestion. She would also obviously spurn the idea that our village would improve by better relations between the mayor and the village board.

Marilyn was elected on an apparently false and misleading platform of a "new broom," new ideas and solid goals. She has shown herself repeatedly to have wholeheartedly abandoned all claim to that position, siding constantly with the "old guard" and the factions that want to develop every square inch of Antioch with congested apartments and packed-in housing.

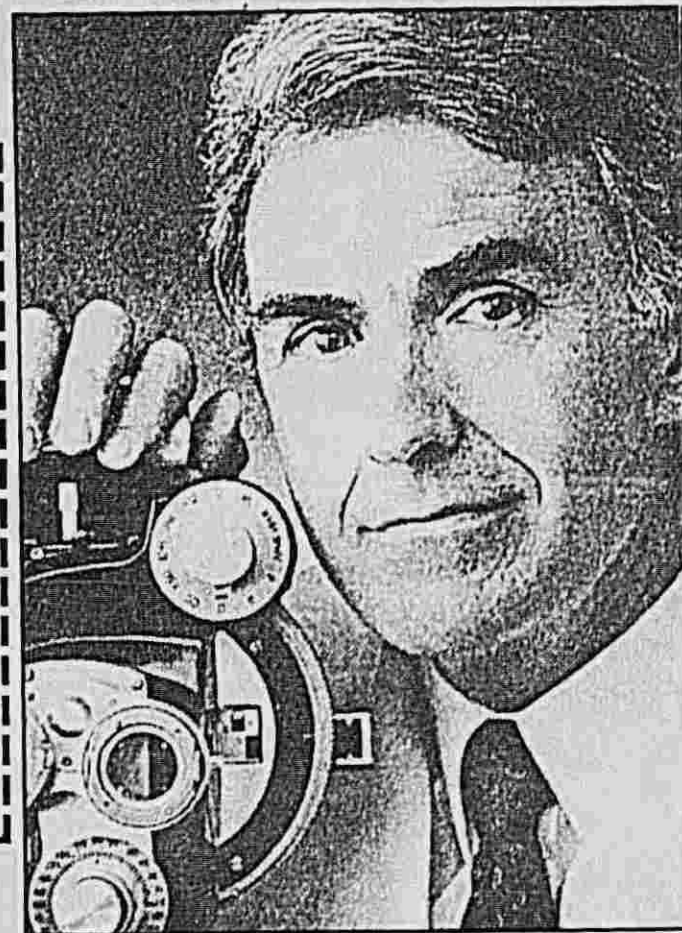

Where has she shown herself as a voice of calm or reason in the board meetings? Where are her positive contributions? Rather than assailing me for exercising my constitutional voice as a private citizen, shouldn't she be working toward the recycling, civic improvements and good government platforms she campaigned on?

Seven vie for St. Peter's School Board positions

The election of St. Peter's School board members will be held Sunday, April 28 after all Masses, and Saturday, April 27 after 5:30 Mass.

Seven candidates are vying to fill two three-year positions. The candidates are as follows:

George Freeman—his wife, Susan and their children, Rachel and Kyle have been members of the parish since 1986. Rachel is a third grader at St. Peter's.

A graduate of Clarke Memorial College and Illinois Wesleyan University, and a U.S. Army veteran, Freeman is currently employed as operations manager in quality assurance at Abbott Laboratories, where he has worked for the past 18 years.

He is a member of Amvets, Ducks Unlimited, the American Society of Quality Control, the Regulatory Affairs Professionals Society, the Health Industry Manufacturers Association and is the past Assistant Host Coordinator for the Share/Food distribution warehouse in Waukegan. He and his wife have worked at Footlights for the past three years and actively support parish and school activities.

"We moved to Antioch in 1986 because of the St. Peter parish community and school. A sound Foundation in primary education is critical to the development and growth of our children," he said, "St. Peter's provides us a quality education and blends it with the important elements of an excellent Catholic Christian school environment. We receive a great deal from the parish community. I want to give my support to the parish in return by serving the school as an active member and positive contributor to the St. Peter's Board."

William Geyer—was born and raised in Morton Grove. He attended St. Martha Elementary School and graduated from Niles West High School. He and his wife, Nancy, moved to Antioch in 1986 with their two children. Eric is a third grader at St. Peter's and Rebecca will enter first grade in the fall.

For the past 16 years, he has been employed at Baxter Healthcare Corp., Deerfield, as supervisor of the printing and bindery department.

Since moving to Antioch, Geyer has been an active member of the parish and community. He has worked at Footlights for the past two years and is a Cub Scout Den Leader and Iceless Hockey coach. He has also coached for Antioch Youth Baseball.

"I welcome the opportunity to help maintain and further enhance the scholastic standards that parents have come to know and expect of St. Peter's," he said.

Cynthia Vandrush—her husband, Allen and their family have been members of St. Peter Parish since 1978. Their daughter, Jennifer, is a senior at Antioch Community High school. Matthew, a 1990 graduate of St. Peter's, is an ACHS freshman and Nicholas is a fifth grader at St. Peter's.

After attending Catholic elementary and high schools, she received her bachelor of arts degree in 1971 from Northeastern Illinois University. In 1990, she completed her master of arts degree in reading. She holds four state teaching certificates including elementary, secondary, and certification as an art specialist and as a reading specialist with supervisory endorsement. Since 1979, she has taught in several area schools. She taught art at Grass Lake School for 7 years and at St. Peter's from 1988-89. She has held a teaching position at Emmons School for the last 10 years, teaching art, kindergarten and currently, fourth grade.

For 8 years, she was a preschool CCD instructor and continues to assist the CCD program as a substitute teacher. She has been a Footlights volunteer, most recently on the art committee. During the past year, she has ministered to our parish as a lector.

"I would like to assist St. Peter's to continue the high standards of academic excellence and the positive atmosphere that fosters self-esteem and the spiritual growth of our children," she said.

Ric Brankin—lives in Antioch with his wife, Donna and two children, Amber, 13 and Patrick, 10. Amber is in the seventh grade at St. Peter's and Patrick is in a special education program at Pleviak School, Lake Villa.

Brankin is involved in the sports program at St. Peter's, coaching the seventh grade girls' basketball team. He is also a volunteer in many activities with his son in Special Olympics.

He and Donna are head of the Family Committee for Area Two Special Olympics.

Brankin has been a member of Carpenters Local 74-L in Chicago for 17 years.

"I am running for one of the two positions open because I feel I now have the time and some ideas to maintain St. Peter's fine educational reputation. I think we need to get parents more involved in the school atmosphere as a whole, rather than just volunteers at fundraising events," he said.

Nancy Morici—she and her husband, Frank, have owned and operated Webb's Boat Service since 1973. They have two children, Cara, a second grader at St. Peter's and Michael, 5.

A product of a Catholic education, Morici is a graduate of Mundelein College, Chicago. Before moving to Antioch, she taught primary grades at St. Eulalia School, Maywood.

"I know it takes a lot of hard work to formulate a good, solid Catholic school educational program and would like to be a part of the team to keep St. Peter's strong and growing," she said.

Keel Vetere—she and her husband, Ron, and their family have been Antioch residents for the past 10 years. Two of her children are attending St. Peter's. Bree is in sixth grade and Torri is in third grade. Her son, Marc will begin first grade in the fall.

She and her husband have been involved in both community and parish activities, including Footlights.

She worked as a substitute teacher at St. Peter's from 1983-1990 and is presently employed as director of the Village Campus Before & After School program sponsored by the village.

"St. Peter's has always offered a high quality of education for our children and it is our responsibility as parents to help, encourage and maintain that high quality," she said, "We are very fortunate to have parents, teachers and administrators who care about the future of our children, because these children are our future. As a member of our school board, I would hope to assist in maintaining this quality of education and this level of concern for our children."

Wayne A. Sobczak—a lifelong resident of Antioch, his daughter, Elizabeth is a 1990 graduate of St. Peter's and daughter, Emily, is in third grade.

Sobczak is the owner of Realty World-Tiffany Real Estate in Antioch and Round Lake. He is an 18-year member of the Antioch Rescue Squad and has been certified as a paramedic for 17 years, where he has served as treasurer for 10.

He served for 8 years on the Antioch Plan Commission and was Charter President of the Antioch Exchange Club and former member of St. Peter's Board.

He is a member of the St. Peter Church Choir and has been a Footlights committee director for the past 6 years. He also coaches track.

"The value of a St. Peter's education is immeasurable," he said, "the school has a history of producing a high percentage of honor students who have continued on that path to become leaders in the community. Every effort should be made to ensure that St. Peter's continues its tradition as a superior school. As a former board member I know that many hours must be spent preserving the system and raising additional funds to improve and enhance it."

Anglers strive to keep fish hatchery open

by CLAUDIA M. LENART
Lakeland Newspapers

The official statement from the Illinois Dept. of Conservation is that anglers won't notice the difference in fishing conditions if the Spring Grove Fish Hatchery is closed down due to budget cuts. But conservationists and anglers who work closely with the hatchery tell a different story.

"They might not notice, but they won't catch fish anymore either," said Frank Pecoraro Sr., vice president of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club.

Anglers have concerns that production of certain fish species, especially the walleye and Lake Michigan trout, will be dramatically affected by the hatchery's closing, hence, they are fighting to keep the hatchery open.

The IDOC has proposed closing the hatchery along with a series of other cuts in order to deal with a 10 percent decrease in General Revenue Funds resulting from Gov. Jim Edgar's budget-cutting measures.

The Spring Grove Fish Hatchery started by the IDOC in 1914 is regarded as somewhat of a Northern Illinois institution. "At one time it was recognized as one of the most modern and big hatcheries," said Dick Corey, manager of the Spring Grove facility. Corey further explained, "Many years ago, there were fish hatcheries all over the state and fish were guaranteed perfect health. In this modern age we build massive ones. It's like putting all your eggs in one basket."

The biggest concern of conservationists is that many fish will die if they must be transported some 200 miles from the Jake Wolf Hatchery in Manito to Northern Illinois waterways.

The walleye in particular is extremely sensitive. On a visit to the fish hatchery, one will notice the accelerated pace at which IDOC biologists work when handling the walleye. They want to return the walleye back to the water as quickly as possible so they don't go into shock. The Spring Grove Hatchery has been extremely successful with the walleye breeding program producing 15 million a year.

"With all the stress of hauling them 200 miles, they're going to die," predicted Bob Lindquist, treasurer of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club.

Conservationists also argue that it's best for the walleye hatchery to be close to the number one broodstock in the state, which is in the Chain O'Lakes. There are also concerns that it would be harmful to the Chain walleye to mix the genetic strain with those downstate.

It is also predicted that Lake Michigan trout fishermen would feel the closing of the hatchery. Currently, the Spring Grove Hatchery is the only one producing Lake Michigan trout since there is a moratorium on trout breeding in the bigger hatcheries. Trout which are susceptible to disease could introduce a disease to a big hatchery that would take as long as a year to disinfect, said Corey. However, a small hatchery could be disinfected in a minimal amount of time.

Yet another argument fishermen point to is the logistical problem of stocking small lakes and ponds. Last year, IDOC stocked more than 200 ponds in Northern Illinois. The large hatcheries, Jake Wolf Hatchery and Little Grassy Hatchery, use large tank trucks to transport fish, but these trucks are unable to get to the ponds. The ponds are most effectively served by the smaller hatchery trucks.

The arguments are many for saving the hatchery, not the least of which is economics. The hatchery operates with two full-time positions, some part-time help and the help of many volunteers including those from the NICC and the South of the Border Muskie Club. "The volunteers are saving a lot of money for the department," said Corey.

Harvey Brown, Illinois Department of Conservation biologist, milks the eggs of a walleye. Hatchery workers move very quickly when handling walleye in order to put the sensitive fish through the least amount of stress. Anglers and conservationists fear that if the Spring Grove Hatchery closes, many walleye will die being transported 200 miles from the Jake Wolf Hatchery in Manito.

Besides volunteering labor time at the hatchery, the NICC has donated equipment and resources over the years. Pecoraro allows the state to use his ramp at Frank and Chars Resort on Lake Marie and the NICC has donated in excess of $10,000 in equipment over the years including a press machine and a PH meter. Lindquist explained that the conservation club started donating equipment because of the time lag of getting equipment past the state budgeting process. "They were in a bind, so we said 'Why not?'"

By closing the Spring Grove Hatchery, the IDOC will save $134,000 a year, said IDOC spokesperson Carol Knowles. She pointed out that the department would save even more money in the costs of repairing the hatchery. "It needs repairs and it's more responsible to put (fish rearing) on newer facilities," she said.

The hatchery is due for some $1.5

'The state plans to spend $2 million this year on bike paths. I have nothing against bikes, but is it more important than people who buy fishing licenses?'— million in repairs, mostly concrete work. That money was to have come through the state this year.

Pecoraro says that the $1.5 million isn't excessive when one considers other IDOC budget allocations. "The state plans to spend $2 million this year on bike paths. I have nothing against bikes, but is it more important than people who buy fishing licenses?" he asked.

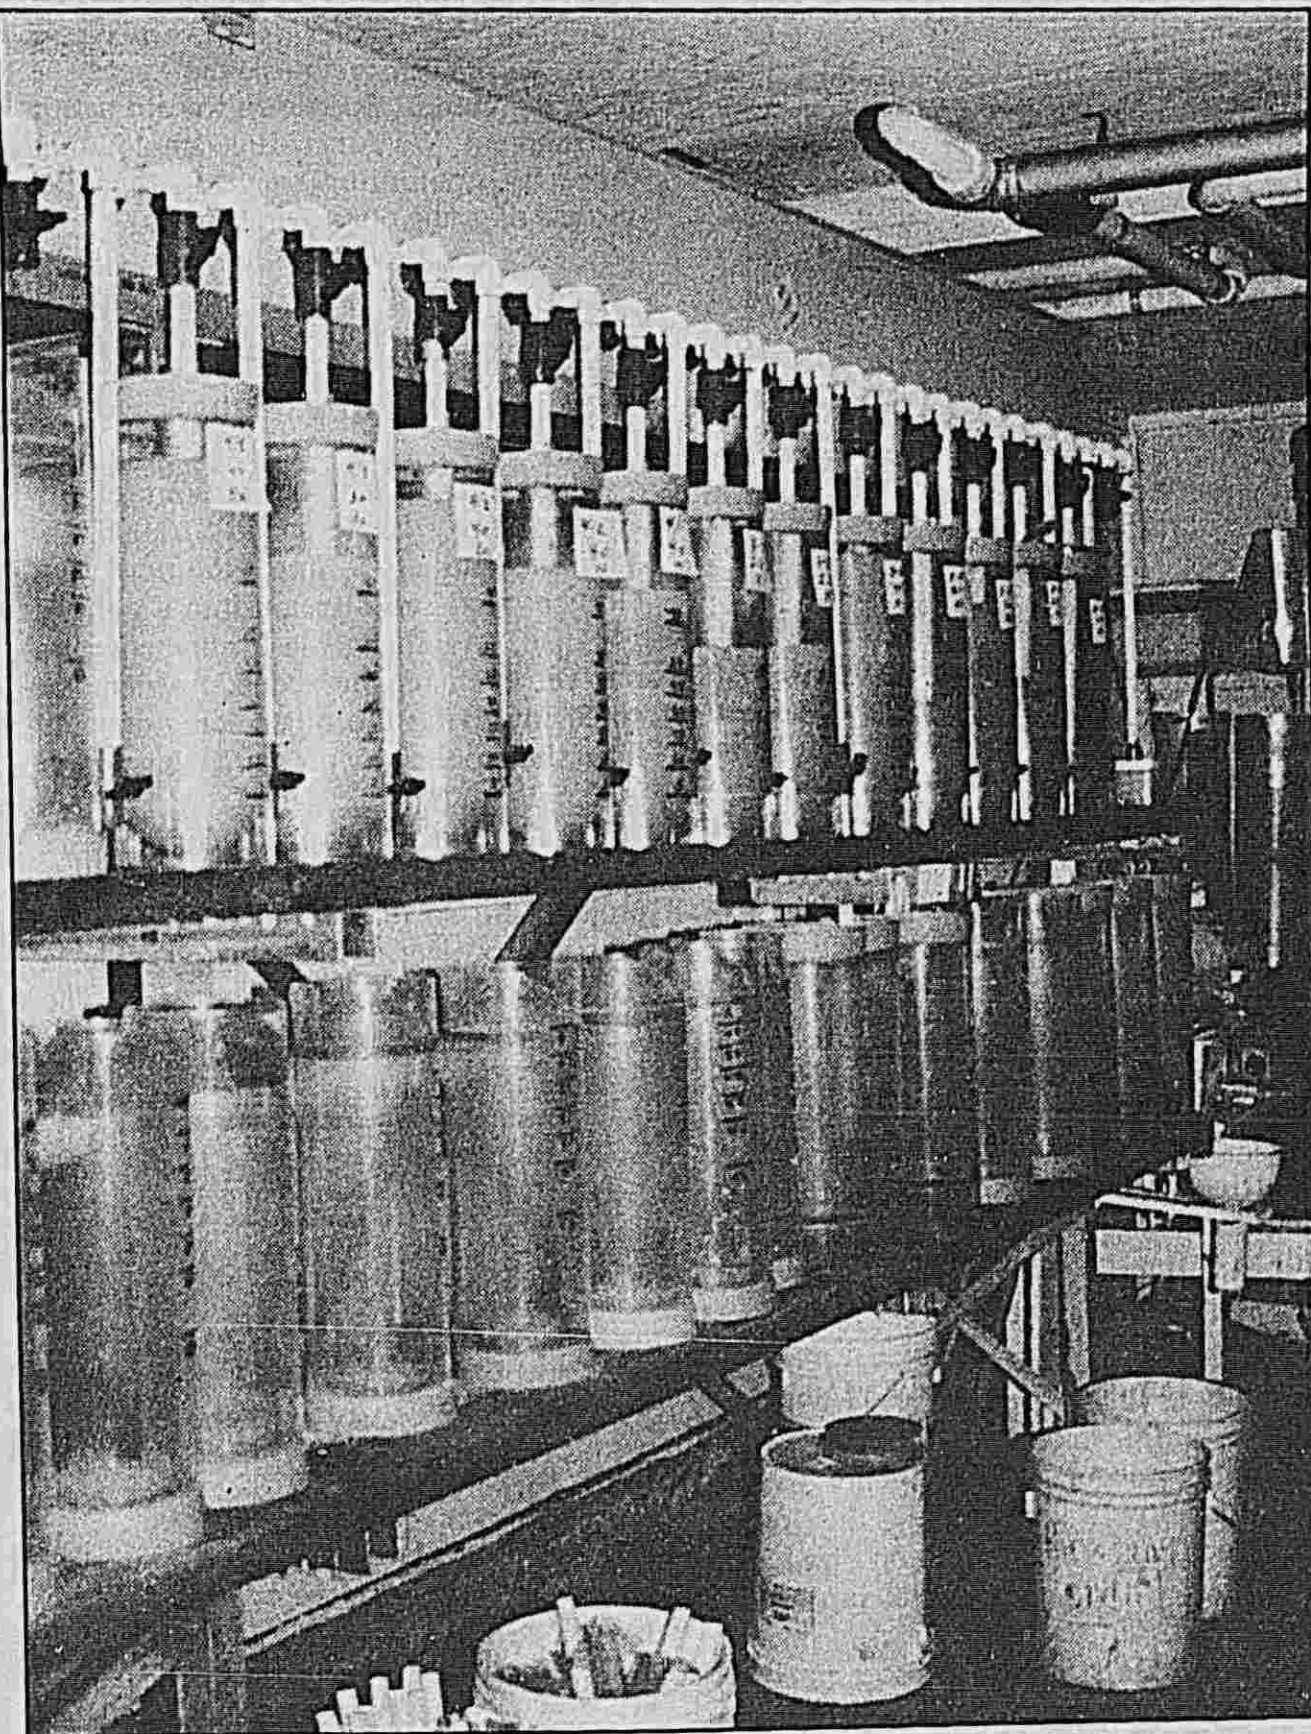

Pecoraro also believes that the state hasn't reviewed all the options to keeping the hatchery open. He pointed out that only a small percentage of the cost of a fishing license at $7.50 goes toward fish hatcheries and he believes anglers would be happy to pay an extra 50 cents for a license in order to save the hatchery.

Another money-raising venture the state could embark on would be the raising of minnows which is the main source of feed at fish rearing facilities. Currently the state pays for feed, but it is believed that the Spring Grove Hatchery would be well-suited for raising feed.

The decision on the fate of the hatchery is in the hands of the state legislature which is expected to vote on the IDOC budget in May. The budget is currently being reviewed by the Appropriations Committee.

The NICC hopes to persuade legislators to save the hatchery. Conservationists have embarked on a massive letter-writing campaign and have sent stamped postcards to the 22,000 boaters who have permits on the Chain urging them to write their legislators.

If that doesn't work, there is talk of operating the hatchery on a private basis, however, that would be a last resort. "It's a thought, but have we got a chance? I'd just as soon see it be state operated," said Lindquist.

Four-quart containers full of walleye fish eggs line the wall at Spring Grove Fish Hatchery. There are 125,000 eggs per quart. Biologists say they are successful if 1 percent of the eggs survive and that is a much higher survival rate than if they let nature take its course. The hatchery has an annual production of 15 million walleyes.

Bob Lindquist mixes eggs with a solution which prevents them from sticking together. Lindquist, treasurer of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club, is one of many volunteers who help operate the hatchery.

Don't blame Springfield

There's more to the continued decline in voter support of school referenda than an anti-tax sentiment on the part of voters.

Over Lake County as a whole, five of six school referenda questions in the April 2 election asking voters to raise more money for buildings or teachers' salaries went down to defeat. Add to that the stinging defeat suffered in Libertyville in a February vote to expand the high school and a pretty wide-spread picture of discontent develops. Something obviously is wrong.

Round Lake Unit School Dist. 116 voters defeated a proposal for increasing the education fund to get out of a rapidly escalating debt. Antioch High School Dist. 117, which includes the Lindenhurst-Lake Villa area, saw the defeat of a $29 million bond issue for a new high school. Approval for issuance of $6 million building bonds for Wauconda Unit Dist. 118 was defeated more than two to one. Voters in Lake Zurich Unit Dist. 95 solidly rejected a plan to issue $12.8 million in building bonds for a new elementary and junior high school.

Only successful school referendum was in the extreme northeast corner of the county where Winthrop Harbor residents approved by a narrow margin a 75 cent rate increase in the education rate, an issue that had been on the ballot before.

Conventional wisdom is to point a finger of blame at Springfield at the dwindling flow of state aid as the root of all public education problems in Illinois. There is truth to this in some degree, but in our opinion, there is much more to the problem.

Voters take out their frustration on bond issues, but it's high time that their other questions are analyzed so that corrective measures can be taken. The electorate is fed up with the system of local control which they see as a combination of weak-kneed school board members and manipulative, bloated administrations that continually cave-in to the pressures of powerful teachers' unions demanding more pay and more benefits. Add to this a "go for broke" mentality on the part of village officials who approve unfettered growth and development that creates more and more students without commensurate compensation in tax dollars or impact fees and a climate ripe for disaster as at hand.

To be sure, voters have themselves to blame in a large part. They can't have it both ways, "progress" in the form of one housing development after another while paying just enough real estate tax to keep the school doors open. At the same time, the electorate can't continue to put representatives on school boards who don't understand the growth equation or are helpless to deal with powerful teacher unionism.

Maybe the legislators are right in Springfield by taking the attitude, "folks, row your own boat." But that attitude doesn't take into consideration program and facility reductions that undercut opportunity for our children in an era when they must have more education than ever to find their way in an adult world.

It's a mess, all right, but merely blaming Springfield isn't the answer. The theory is that we still have a good deal of local autonomy in the operation of the public school system. In part, voters have been exercising that autonomy. Only now they must take a deeper look at what's eating them.

Friendly persuasion

As more and more Lake County land is gobbled up by municipal incorporations, a friendly boundary agreement between Lindenhurst and Gurnee hopefully is a harbinger of things to come.

The two communities are negotiating a boundary agreement for the territory in the vicinity of Grand Ave. and Rte. 45. The agreement is seen as setting Gurnee's rapid westward expansion while providing Lindenhurst with much-needed commercial potential. Acquiring all or part of the strategic intersection would be a crowning achievement for outgoing Mayor Robert Ratch of Lindenhurst.

When it comes to annexation, a "get there furthest with the mostest" attitude has prevailed for village officials in contrast to negotiation and conciliation. An atmosphere of friendliness in annexation questions is much preferred to land grabbing.

Trees are important

The value of trees is going up all the time, undoubtedly in reaction to the law of supply and demand in our rapidly urbanizing locality. Just about every progressive municipality in the area has ordinances to protect mature trees.

Latest evidence of the value of trees is in Lake Zurich where more than 100 residents blocked attempts to erect a 115-foot water tower in a 5.9 acre nature park with oaks that are as old or older than settlement in southwest Lake County. Even prospects of potentially higher water bills didn't sway the tree protectors. Public Works Dir. David Talbott wanted the park site because its height would be beneficial in raising water pressure.

Talbott even enlisted the help of a professional plant biologist to devise a plan that would result in minimal tree removal. The biologist devised a layout that would save all be one oak. But still the neighbors demurred.

In the face of homeowner opposition, members of the plan commission unanimously rejected the park site for the water tower. Now it will be interesting to see if council members, who have the final sayso, can see the forest for the trees.

Letters to the Editor

Use common sense

Editor:

I have just read the Burning Restrictions in the Village of Grayslake Newsletter. Village fathers have really outdone themselves with this one.

Maybe if we had 300 feet of three inch fire hose, rented Farmer Doolittle's corn field, prayed for no rain every Wednesday and Saturday and had a weather station in every home to measure the wind velocity and inversion conditions, we could burn a few leaves!

This is not Washington or the United Nations or International Politics. I just want to burn my leaves like I have done for over 40 years. Doesn't someone on the board have some down home country common sense?

John Brandstetter
Grayslake

Where Mike got money

Editor:

Francis "Mike" Graham painted a scenario that any candidate who is supported by a wealthy businessman must be "owned" by the supporter!

How conveniently short is the memory of Graham since filed public records of campaign disclosure clearly show that in all of his political campaigns Graham was financially supported by the Casey-Almond Developer Group, namely Gaylord Donnelly, Marshall Field, and George Ranney who contributed thousands of dollars to his political slush fund.

Evidently, since the voters elected the candidates whom Graham "claims" were supported by Jack Martin, they agree with Martin's selections and reject Graham's.

Patrick Connors
Libertyville

Staying out of the dark

Editor:

I would like to thank the Round Lake News for printing the "gun incidents" at Round Lake High School so prominently on the front page.

I feel that this exposure has been instrumental in forcing the high school administration to take action instead of keeping the parents in the dark in order to pass their referendum.

We have a right to know what is going on in our schools, not just what the administration wants us to know. I feel RLHS has many good things to offer, including a good education, but make it a safe environment also.

Janet Nelson

Find common ground

Editor:

The United States has prevailed over Iraq in a stunning show of force, pushing Saddam Hussein out of Kuwait. Even more impressive were the American people, who rallied and gave full support to our country in crises. Servicemen and women stationed in the Middle East have heard about the American Flags flying on every house in every neighborhood. This beautiful spirit of brotherhood and patriotism must continue even though we no longer have the evil dictator from Iraq as a common enemy.

Our country is bound to face new challenges. Many of these obstacles to American happiness will not give us a Saddam Hussein to unite against.

We, as Americans, must find other common ground in our heritage as a free people. Love of country and each other must go on; American Flags must remain on every house in every neighborhood. When we discuss solutions to problems, the different approaches should not divide us. Instead, public debate should bring together open American minds, anxious to hear all contributions. The motive should be to better our nation, not to pursue individual selfish victories. Never during disagreement should we use the power of free speech to put down other Americans; we must challenge the ideas, not the people expressing them.

We accomplished a great deal as a nation during Operation Desert Storm, through our unity. Now that peace is upon us, there is no reason for our nation to fragment. We Americans can do much more by continuing to work together, instead of going our separate ways.

Golf course questions

Editor:

I'd like to protest the actions of the Gurnee Park Dist. to spend $16,000,000 additional dollars to make the new west Gurnee maxi-sub-division into a golfer's paradise, or a Shangri-la for homeowners not yet even on the scene. A spending spree involving the other acres donated from time to time by pressured developers is also ill-advised.

The three members of the Gurnee Park Dist. who voted unanimously for this project, did so in a manner designed to keep the project as quiet as possible; a "back-door" referendum they call it. The

Cubs without Mitch now can make history

by BILL SCHROEDER

OK. The experts are picking the Cubs to win it all in the National League East this year and wind up in the World Series against the White Sox. That's fine with me. I've been a Cubs fan all my life and I always hope for the best. As for the Sox, well, you have to play someone in the World Series.

The Cubs clinched a division flag Sunday when they dispatched Mitch Williams to Philly. Mitch might be a loveable odd ball, but a closer he ain't. Adding the free agent artillery will make a difference, but saying goodbye to Mitch was the clincher. Now I know management means business.

Chicago press guys have been all adither about a L World Series. Why not? Beside, they had to write something new after picking the Cubs all spring. Let's take first things first, though---like the division.

Sluggo George Bell and the new lefty-righty mound combo of Danny Jackson and the new Smitty, Dave, will add to the fun, but getting to first place and staying there will rest on the productivity of Ryne Sandberg, Andre Dawson, Greg Maddux and Mark Grace.

Another reason why the Cubs will do it: A couple of "six pack" guys, Don Zimmer and GM Jim Frey, are fully in charge with a team they designed. An honest work ethic is hard to beat and two bosses who come to work with their sleeves rolled up makes a big difference.

But the big difference this year is subtraction, not addition. So long Mitch, the most over-rated Cub since Ron Cey. Now we've got a chance!

CAP CHAMP---Joe Wojton sold $1,000 worth of Desert Storm caps for Wauconda Rotary. That's a lot of caps. Proceeds of the cap sales will go to assist families of Persian Gulf troops. Rotarians raised more than $3,000 and still have final sales to tabulate.

LUCKY BACHELOR---Jeff Pahl probably is lucky that he is a bachelor. A wife might not like a Kong-sized plastic buccancer peering in her living room window. Jeff bought the long-shuttered Pirate's Lair tavern on Fox Lake complete with giant pirate landmark overlooking the waterfront and is razing the ramshackle structure to pave the way for construction of a home. The plastic pirate will continue gazing out over the water, says Jeff, who can't think of a more colorful landmark when giving friends directions to his new home.

BULL IN CHINA SHOP—Are the inmates running the institution? That is the opinion of some County Board members following this week's meeting.

It started during a noon recess when Chairman Robert Depke approached 67-year-old Arbor Vista resident Dieter Eisenstaedt in the spectator's gallery. He was talking to board member Jim Fields of Antioch. Depke approached the two and said: "Don't talk to this ass...."

"Don't call me an ass....," Eisenstaedt said as he waved a rolled up meeting agenda at Depke. The chairman, who is at least 20 years younger, drew back his arm and fist as if to strike Eisenstaedt. Fields separated the two. "It was crazy," Eisenstaedt said afterwards. "I don't know what got into the man. Maybe it was my opposition to him a year ago when he sold out the township garbage contract to Waste Management Inc."

Later, in an ante room, Depke got into a verbal hassle with another board member, Larry Leafblad of Highland Lake. Leafblad questioned Depke's press conference of several weeks earlier announcing agreement on the Grand-Hunt Club annexation. Sewer service for the multi-million dollar project was approved by the board this week.

"You're a jerk," Depke told Leafblad. "If you want to talk to me, see me in my board office."

Throughout the meeting, which lasted until 4:30 p.m., Depke invoked the five-minute rule on speakers opposed to him or items he favored on the board agenda. He simply turned off their microphones. Anyone speaking in favor of the chairman or his agenda got as much time as they wanted.

MARTIN VS. GRAHAM—F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville suffered another election defeat in the April election. So says Jack Martin of the Libertyville Saddle Shop, his political adversary.

In the election for the village board Martin personally supported three candidates; William Madole, Duane Laska and Robert Gleeson. They won big.

Graham distributed a flyer pointing this out. "It is easy to distinguish by the number of costly signs and mailings who is being supported by wealthy businessman Jack Martin and his political friends," it said. "They have successfully gained control of township and county government (by virtue of previous election wins) and are attempting a political hat trick by adding the village board to the collection." He then listed the independent candidates, including Madole. All lost but Madole.

"I know you would like everyone to believe you and your political cronies were bulldozed out of office by business people, homebuilders or some mythical political machine," Martin wrote Graham. "This feeble attempt at self-pity is not working. Tuesday's election added another rejection to your legendary record of political defeats and humiliations."

IN HIDING—One man who will never change is Jim Stevens, Lindenhurst village administrator.

He doesn't return telephone calls on a timely basis.

At board meetings where residents express a concern or two, he invariably says: "Call me tomorrow. I'll be in my office all day."

Sure enough, they call. But Stevens is either too busy talking to someone else, in a meeting or simply ignoring callers.

Leave a message and he may call back the same day. Or, sometimes, not at all.

MONEY SPEAKS—Tim Anderson of Libertyville, the banking expert who documented the downfall of Libertyville Federal Savings and Loan Assn. for the government, said he didn't get much help from the politicians.

One, in particular, he blames is Congressman John Porter (R-Wilmette) of the 10th Dist. Five savings and loans have failed in his district and been taken over by the federal Resolution Trust Corp.

In addition to Libertyville Federal (where six directors are now being sued for $20 million), the others are Horizon Savings of Wilmette, Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Assn., First Savings Bank of Zion and Home Savings of Waukegan.

Anderson documented the bad investments and declining net worth of Libertyville Federal from 1981 through 1989. He tried telling and showing Porter what he had. Anderson even tried the same with Fred Foreman, the new U.S. district attorney for northern Illinois. Both ignored him like the plague.

It wasn't until he met with the office of U.S. Sen. Paul Simon (D-Illinois) that the feds got busy.

"Porter didn't want the embarrassment of another savings and loan failure in his district," Anderson said. "Too many members of those boards were contributors to his campaign. They were his friends. He even convinced Foreman they were good people."

If the charges stick those involved in the Libertyville Federal case won't have anything left for political contributions.

LIVE TO BE 90—Last month the Libertyville Lions Club held a 90th birthday party for one of its founding members, Willis Overholser.

The soft-spoken solon who dispensed legal wisdom without the big bills of today, once served as village attorney for Libertyville, Mundelein and Grayslake, among others. He also served several fire protection districts, companies and corporations.

How does someone live to be 90?

Being a vegetarian helps, Overholser said. He has been one much of his life. "Lots fresh fruits and raw vegetables," he said.

Oh, one other hint. Forget the coffee. It's bad for you. He blames it for the death of his wife of 39 years, Dorthea, in 1984.

(Continued from preceding page) district does an excellent job of publicizing their other park activities. Why didn't they issue news releases before they met on such an important topic, to really let the public have its say on the matter?

They must all feel in their hearts that is ill-advised. Joe Trierwiler, dedicated Gurnee businessman and civic minded resident, a guy who had 15 years of service to the community on the park district, felt so strongly about it that he resigned prior to the vote. He wanted no part of it.

Another member, Jack Porter is reportedly employed for a landowner involved in the new huge Gurnee annexation where the golf course will be located. He resigned from the park board before the subject came to a vote.

That left only three people responsible for a new $16 million debt for the people in Gurnee, many of whom are already overburdened with a tax liability they can't handle.

The 200 plus acres set aside for the golf course in the new western area of Gurnee, was mentioned in recent news accounts about the "new spirit of cooperation" between Gurnee and county officials. However, it was not disclosed that the taxpayers of the park district were going to buy the land. Furthermore, there is no item in the proposed $16,000,000 expenditure to ever build the golf course or maintain it, just to purchase the property.

We don't need huge spending to give us a "state of the art" golf course, or endless expensive improvements to an already "state of the art" park system, unless the people who have been here for a while really want it. That is why we need a referendum, to find out!

Lessons of the crisis

Editor:

If we learn nothing else from the Persian Gulf crisis, we must recognize how precious liberty is and how tentative is our hold on it.

Mankind has not been able to achieve peaceful coexistence. Government still is necessary---for national defense, adjudication of disputes and providing some public services.

We must always be mindful of government's seductive promises. "If you grant me this power I (government) will make your life better." Today government spends more than one-third of our Gross National Product, and controls more and more of our lives.

Thomas Jefferson once said, "The national progress of things is for liberty to yield and government to gain ground." Preserving liberty means having the courage to reject government's plans to take others property and rights---even if it benefits us.

Instead, heed the words of Jefferson's inaugural address: liberty requires "a frugal government which shall restrain men from injuring one another, shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry, and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned."

What office costs

Editor:

Lake County's legendary Tax Raiser, Tax Spender and Tax Dodger, F.T. Mike Graham's claim that the Sec. of State is paying me rent of $14.70 per square foot for the driver's license facility in Brookside Shopping Center in Libertyville is a lie. I only wish it were true.

This does not surprise me or the rest of Lake County because Graham's public pronouncements have always been clouded, tainted, misleading and full of falsehoods.

The lease signed by Gov. Jim Edgar, then Sec. of State, on April 25, 1986, in paragraph IV-B. states the base rent of $8.50 per square foot for the five-year term of the lease and is the current rate today, not $14.70 as Graham claims. Graham should be "probing" the Lake County Storm Management Committee lease at $10.50 which he infers is a good deal and noticeably 23 percent higher than the state lease. I find it strange that Graham's departure from public office, with my help, has made Graham a born-again tax reformer.

Graham's multimillion dollar legal fees with defeat after defeat in court, costly giveaway General Assistance and Welfare programs to make Libertyville, during his reign, the welfare capitol of Lake County, and using the public funds of the township and county, to greenbelt his rich and wealthy developer friends and political supporters' massive real estate projects in Lake County are a few of the issues the voters recognized when sending him, with my help, to early retirement.

My goal as a citizen or as a leader in Taxpayers for Good Government or I-RATE, Individuals for Responsible and Accountable Tax Equity, has been to eliminate tax waste and the politicians that cause it.

Spring Car Care

Spring car wash and wax makes owner happier

In a survey by the International Carwash Assn. car owners responded when asked, "How do you feel when you go to a car wash?" "It's uplifting." "It's like going to the beauty parlor." "It makes me feel good!"

With the approach of nicer spring weather, keeping one's car looking good can be even more gratifying. Motorists spend an estimated $2.5 billion annually at some 23,000 professional car washes in the U.S. and Canada. Knowing a few facts about car cleaning and care can increase the life of your car and the pleasure of owning it.

•Check your car for winter damage and touch up minor nicks, especially along door edges and door sills.

•The most important time to wash your car is after a rain. Modern finishes are made up of several layers of pigmented paint covered with a coat of shiny protective varnish called a clear coat. Rain often carries sulfuric acid which can eat through the clear coat causing damage that looks like water spots, but cannot be removed. To remove acid-rain residue, professional washes use solutions that are monitored constantly to balance the PH, and neutralize the effect of acid rain. Following up with a coat of wax protects the finish from future damage.

•According to the International Carwash Assn., professional car washing is gentler. It eliminates possible damage from home washing with detergents and car soap mixtures that are too alkaline. Such soap mixtures may not rinse well and in turn leave a filmy, dull finish or spots. In hard water areas, professional car washes soften and demineralize the final rinse to eliminate spotting. Car washes adjust the cleaning solutions depending on the season, and in the summer a high percentage of bug-removing solutions are added. For those in water scarce areas, association officials note that professional car washing uses less water than the at-home, hose and bucket method, 30 gallons versus up to 148 gallons.

•Rust and corrosion: The major cause of cars rusting out is dirt and road grime sticking to crevices. This holds moisture to the undercarriage. Professional car washes offer an undercarriage spray that removed dirt and adds a rust inhibitor to reduce the effect of corrosive road grime.

•To get your car off to the right start this spring, consider a hand-applied top-of-the-line wax. These waxes are buffed with power buffers that heat the car's surface to burnish the wax and produce a more glossy, protective shine. In between top-of-the-line waxing, automatically-applied wax will prolong the shine and protection. These waxes include a sealer wax which shines the car, protects the finish and helps to reduce rusting and pitting. Car washes also offer a premium automatic wax for a dollar or so more. These waxes, known in some areas as poly-creme, give more of a top-of-the-line wax look. Automatic waxes last about one week or so, and the two types may be used together to produce a more durable, long-lasting shine.

•Don't neglect the interior. In addition to regular vacuuming and shampooing, motorists should ventilate their cars whenever possible. This prevents the build-up of an oily residue from a gaseous vapor emitted when plastic and vinyl car parts are heated. The film is most obvious on the windshield above the dashboard and can be removed at the car wash or by using a detergent-based glass cleaner.

Buckle Up

The National Hwy. Traffic Safety Admin. estimates motorists who wear their safety belts properly are 40 to 55 percent more likely to avoid moderate, serious and/or fatal injuries than those who drive unbuckled. In addition, a safety belt and air bag used together are up to 60 percent effective in reducing similar injuries.

A properly positioned safety belt is the most effective piece of safety equipment in a car but the only way it can work is if people take the time to buckle up.

Spring Car Care

Several tips for a care free automobile trip

If you're getting ready to pack spouse, kids and fishing rods into the family car for a vacation trip, a little advance attention can help insure carefree driving.

Make sure your car's in top shape. If it doesn't purr along smoothly, or responds raggedly when you step on the gas, you may need a tune-up.

Check tires for cuts and excessive wear. One way to measure is to push the edge of a penny as far as it will go into any groove between the treads; if the top of Lincoln's head shows, the tread's too shallow, and will have lost a lot of its grip on the road; replace the tire. Uneven wear may suggest a check of wheel alignment and balance. Check tires for recommended air pressure; a common error is to run tires too soft. That makes steering harder and cuts fuel mileage.

Check all fluids—battery, transmission, power-steering, brakes, windshield-washer, radiator coolant, motor oil. Modern oils give you a wide choice to satisfy your wallet and driving conditions. Some oils offer viscosity (flowability) grades ranging from SAE (for Society of Automotive Engineers) 5W-30 to 20W-50, and there's a new Super XHP (for extra high performance) mineral oil offering superior stability in high temperatures. It fills a niche between the company's Super HP (for high performance) array and the top of the line synthetic. The lower the viscosity number, the easier the flow. The number with the "W" after it indicated the rating in a cold test; the number without the "W" indicates rating in a test at a specified higher temperature. So modern multi-viscosity oils let you have it both ways, lower viscosity for easier starting in the cold, higher viscosity for more body and staying power in the heat.

While you're checking fluids, remember that your radiator coolant is more than just an "anti-freeze." It includes components that fight rust, so you use the mixture year-round, but should renew it every other year to keep corrosion-fighting capability up to strength. If the level in your radiator is low, add half water and half coolant to fill. Check your battery's power indicator, and cable connections for tightness and corrosion. Try all lights and turn indicators. Replace your air filter if it's dirty. Rub any grime off your windshield wipers, and replace them if they're worn. If necessary, tighten connections on drive belts and hoses; replace them if they're worn, brittle, or soft; doing so could save you a troublesome stop on a remote country road.

Loading baggage on a roof rack increases air resistance and cuts fuel mileage. But if you have no choice, arrange bags in a stepped-up pile on the roof, for some streamlining—and tie down securely. Put a flashlight in your glove compartment, and a few safety flares in your trunk. Have someone carry spare keys. And everyone belts up for driving.

Simplifying shopping for cars

New or used, buying a car is a major expense. In fact, for Americans, it ranks second only to purchasing a home. The good news is that a used car could be your wisest investment.

When considering a car purchase, consider all the sellers at your service. You can make your purchase from a private seller or a car rental company in addition to the traditional car dealer.

Most people don't identify car rental companies as a source for cars, yet each year many of these companies sell thousands of current model cars to consumers and replace them with newer models.

Shop around for the best seller, consider each offer, including type of warranty or guarantee, plus financing options and the availability of the car's maintenance records for your review.

Most rental companies keep each car's complete maintenance history on file, so you can see exactly what you are buying. This can help eliminate a lot of the risk involved when buying a used car. And, on the whole most rental cars receive better scheduled maintenance than the average car.

While some people object to buying a used rental car because the cars have had a number of different drivers, auto mechanics maintain that the number of drivers makes no difference. The key factor to a car's overall condition is maintenance.

Shoppers are encouraged to follow these checkpoints:

Have your mechanic or friend stand outside the car to let you know if the brake, flasher, signal back-up, and running, head and tail lights work.

Walk around the car to check for peeling paint, a sign that the car may be rusty underneath. Check the wheel tailgate or trunk area and under the hood for rusting.

Test drive on different road surfaces at high/low speeds. If the engine doesn't turn over in a few seconds, knocks or runs roughly, the car may need higher octane fuel or expensive repairs.

Lift the hood and check the condition of belts, hoses and battery. Cracks or leaks may mean decline of the car's over-all condition.

Be alert to any unusual sounds, vibrations or odors. The transmission should shift smoothly through all the gears, and a manual clutch should not vibrate or grab. A shaky wheel could result from front-end alignment or suspension problems.

Stand back to see if the car is level and conforms to its natural line. Test shock absorbers by pushing the car down on each corner and letting it bounce. Good shock absorbers only bounce once.

Fitness store flexing expertise, selection

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Ever go into a specialty store looking for some solid information before you make a purchase? Ever ask a salesperson for that information and receive a blank stare instead of an answer?

Well, that won't happen at Fitness & Cycling Gear in Lake Zurich — these guys know their stuff.

•Owner Paul Schenkel was a buyer for Chicago-based Sportmart for four years.

•David Schindler — who handles sales and merchandising — has 10 years of experience, coming in as the former owner of CC Cycle in Buffalo Grove and a current member of a mountain-bike racing team.

•Ron Kondarors, the service manager, has five years experience in fitness and cycling.

"Basically, we have a full-fledged fitness store," Schenkel said of his store, which is celebrating a one-year anniversary. "The customer comes in to us, and whether it's a small purchase or a large purchase, we ask them a lot of questions.

"We ask them how much time they have (to devote to fitness), what they like to do, what they don't like to do, how much space they have (for equipment)."

Schenkel said money is a question left for last.

"We don't really go into money. You can spend a little money or a lot of money, but whatever you buy, we want you to use. Whether you spend $100 or $1,000, it doesn't do you any good unless you do it on a constant basis."

Now, if you're looking for softball socks, Jarts sets or bocci balls, don't go to Fitness & Cycling Gear.

This store offers items for where the rubber meets the road, biceps are built to bulge and fitness is formed.

You'll find complete lines of bicycles (road and mountain), weight-lifting equipment, treadmills, stair-steppers, rowers and other aerobic-conditioning products.

The store also offers a wide selection of inline skates — a high-tech combination of ice and roller skates that can provide fun and a good workout at the same time.

And, of course, there's a wide selection of cross-training shoes and accompanying equipment and clothing for the above endeavors.

"We try to go out and get a good assortment of products so the customer has a lot to choose from," Schenkel explained.

Bicycles are an important part of Schenkel's business, but he said, "We don't just sell bikes."

Schenkel said the store offers free seminars on bicycle maintenance: "People don't know how to fix a flat until it's too late," and rust-retardation: "Everything to make the bike last longer."

You can also sign up for group rides,

'You can spend a little money or a lot of money, but whatever you buy, we want you to use.' — Paul Schenkel led by the competitive cyclist, Schindler.

"Safety" and "comfort" are the key words Schenkel uses when talking about cycling. Bicycles can be brought to the store for professionally done "tune-ups."

"The more safe and comfortable you feel, the more you enjoy it, and the more you do it," Schenkel said.

If you buy some of the larger equipment, Fitness and Cycling Gear is willing to make a house call, if need be.

"We don't always do everything right, but we bend over backwards to get it right," Schenkel said. "Whatever it takes to make you happy with the purchase. The more comfortable you are with the purchase, the more you're going to use it, and the more people you tell."

"A lot of business is done on a referral basis. You can advertise and you can advertise — and we do aggressively — but a happy customer is a good customer. We really try to take care of the customer."

Schenkel said the fitness and the business end of it are constantly changing.

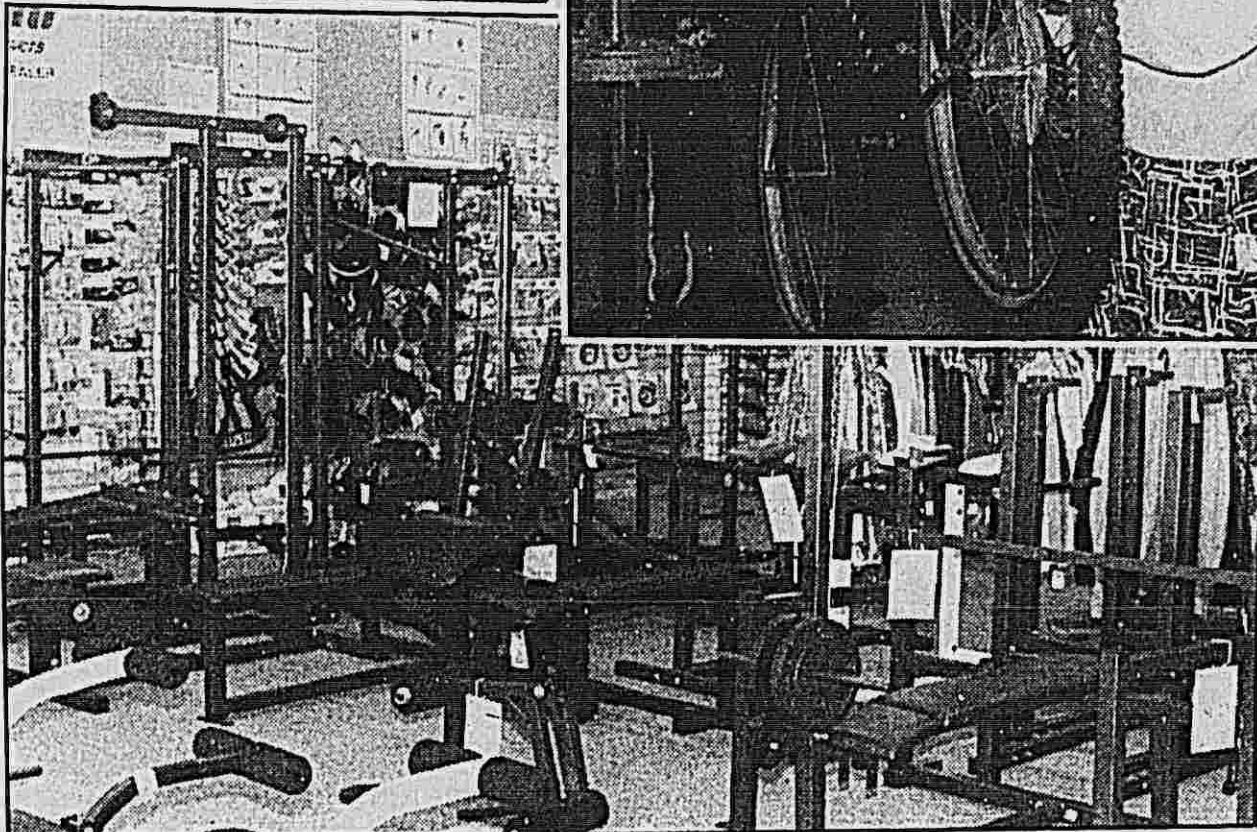

"It's changed a lot. More people can afford to buy good equipment that's going to last. Four or five years ago, no one had heard of the stair-stepper. Who knows what it'll be three years from now? Five years ago, you never heard of mountain bikes, but they represent 80 percent of sales now."

Schenkel said he set up shop at 808 S. Rand Rd. (in the Wal-Mart mall), because he "had that entrepreneurial spirit."

"We had looked around the northwest suburbs for a good location. When we saw the Wal-Mart and Phar-mor pop up, we went for it."

Business Briefs

Antioch Inn changes to Regency Inn

Antioch—The Comfort Inn of Antioch will cease affiliation with the Quality International chain of hotels. The inn will change names to Regency Inn—Antioch and operate as an independent hotel. The 68 unit upscale hotel, located near the intersections of Rtes. 83 and 173 in Antioch opened as a Comfort Inn in mid 1988. Jack Dupré, owner, stated: "Reservations generated for our property through the franchise system have been far less than expected, I believe, by all concerned. The results of our affiliation have not been financially rewarding for either party."

Ray Chevrolet/Geo opens in Fox Lake

Fox Lake—Ray Scarpelli and Ray Scarpelli, Jr., owners of Raymond Chevrolet/Oldsmobile/Geo in Antioch, are the new owners of Ricketts Chevrolet/Geo in Fox Lake. Under the new ownership, called Ray Chevrolet/Geo, the dealership is holding a special grand opening. The Scarpellis are not newcomers to the car business or the area. They have owned Raymond Chevrolet/Oldsmobile/Geo in Antioch for 25 years. The Scarpellis want the change to run smoothly for both the employees of the 41-year-old Ricketts dealership as well as its customers, so they plan to keep Ed Kelley, who was part of the Ricketts team, on board.

Retail tenants open Townline Commons

Vernon Hills—Five new retail tenants have leased space at Townline Commons, a 280,000 square-foot shopping center located on Townline Rd., (Rte. 60) between Milwaukee Ave., and Fairway Dr., in Vernon Hills. The center is part of Continental Executive Parke, a 525-acre mixed-use business park being developed by Prentiss Properties Limited, Inc. Pet Care Plus, a pet store, and Sport Specialties, a professional sports equipment store, both signed five-year leases for 4,500 and 2,250 square feet, respectively. Signing three-year leases were Ashley's Flowers, a retail floral shop, for 2,250 square feet; Fajitas Inc., a gourmet Mexican restaurant, for 1,920 square feet; and Supercuts, a hair salon, for 1,280 square feet.

Know investment objectives before embarking on program

by TERRANCE R. GAERTNER

Before embarking on any investment program, you should first determine your investment objectives. There are three basic investment objectives:

(1) Safety of Principal - This is the most important when a specific future financial need exists such as college education, old age, sickness, and death. Some part of the money saved for these purposes must be in investments which will not diminish if the economy should falter and price levels should fall.

Unfortunately, there is an inverse relationship between safety of principal and profit potential and income. Profits and income can be obtained only by incurring a risk; and, generally, the safer the investment, the lower the yield. It is impossible to find an investment that will maximize safety, profit potential, and income simultaneously.

(2) Current Income - An individual nearing retirement is naturally concerned with how much a given investment yields, since he must live on this yield after his salary stops. Yield is determined by dividing the annual return by the cost of the investment.

Generally, investments with the highest current income flow have a corresponding reduction in the safety of principal, as the high return reflects the extra cost to attract investors. However, there is a hidden cost in very safe, low income investments.

Although the investment yield is stable in terms of dollars, inflation will cause

This way to wealth

the purchasing power of the dollars to decline, resulting in many cases in an actual decrease in purchasing power over time.

(3) Growth of Capital - This objective requires that income from the investment be secondary and that the investor be willing to accept reasonable risks. In today's unstable economy, it is essential that an investment have the potential for growth of capital if the investor hopes to realize an increase in purchasing power. Growth of capital may also be thought of as "future income."

Beside these three basic investment objectives, two other objectives should be discussed:

(1) Liquidity - An investment is liquid if it is easily and quickly converted to cash without a substantial price concession. Liquidity is a relative term. Every investor needs a certain amount of liquid investments, and with advancing age or large contingencies, this need increases. An investor must recognize, however, that the more non-liquid an investment, generally the greater the potential growth of capital.

(2) Income Tax Deferral - Money has a time value. Therefore, if two investments are equal in all other aspects and one provides for the deferral of income tax through current deductions while the other does not, the investment generating current tax deductions yields the greater return.

Unless you have gone through the process of defining your investment objectives, you are likely to build a hodgepodge portfolio of assets unrelated to each other or your long term goals. I recommend that you seek out the assistance of a qualified financial planner who can help you define your investment objectives. You will then be in a position to build a portfolio that is designed to meet your goals.

Three from Dexter Corp. win top award

The Dexter Corp., Windsor Locks, Conn. announced the 1990 winners in its David L. Coffin Awards Program. Three are employees of Dexter's Waukegan based Packaging Products Div. The annual program, named for Dexter board chairman David L. Coffin, recognizes outstanding technical innovation throughout the corporation's 10 operating divisions in development, engineering, manufacturing, and quality control.

Harold F. Cole, research scientist, Food Coatings group, and Rick W. Pedersen, senior developmental chemist, Polymer group, were honored for developing a new waterborne exterior varnish for DWI cans. It provides increased efficiency and quality because a Rutherford exterior varnish coater can be used instead of wash (curtain) coater.

Lawrence P. Seibel, senior research chemist, Closures group, and Cole won because of their successful development of a new two-coat exterior system for vacuum-packed metal "twist-off" food closures.

Durability and accessibility have added to the popularity of oriental rugs

by CARNIG MINASIAN

As consumers become more and more aware of the accessibility, affordability, and durability of oriental rugs, demand and sales are climbing to new heights, spurred even further by increased interest on the part of investors, antique collectors, and even corporations.

Esteemed for centuries throughout Asia and Europe for beauty and value, hand-woven oriental rugs have only recently come into their own in this country. In part interest is growing in America due to broadened knowledge and appreciation of the exotic and enduring works of art. Furthermore, there has been an increase in the range of sizes, types, and origins of rugs, providing consumers with a wider variety of decorating options.

Room-sized rugs measuring 8 foot by 10 foot by 9 foot by 12 foot are by far the most popular, generally selling from $2,000 to $50,000. However, prices vary greatly depending upon the age of the rug, the country of origin, and the fabric—silk, wool, or cotton.

Most famous oriental rugs were originally manufactured in Persia, the ancestral home of Kerman, Tabriz, Sarouk, and a host of other time-honored patterns. But since the decade-long turmoil in modern Persia and the U.S. embargo on imports from Iran, other countries have increased and improved upon their production of exotic rugs. Countries such as China, India, Pakistan, and Romania, have been expertly weaving their own traditional patterns as well as Persian influenced. And the wool used for these newer rugs are often of much higher quality what has been currently available from Iran.

An oriental rug is defined as a hand-woven rug of natural fiber made in the Near East, Middle East, or Balkan Countries. Such rugs may be either flat-woven or painstakingly hand-knotted. In addition, authentic top quality oriental rugs are manufactured in Turkey, Nepal, the Caucasus, Turkestan, and Afghanistan.

Not one single rug pattern stands out as being the most popular. The rugs being purchased are a cross section of all rug designs and styles available. From primitive geometric tribal Persian and Caucasian rugs such as Heriz, Bidjars, Yalamehs, Afshars, Gashghais, Shirvans, and Rasaks to ornate floral European influenced rugs—Kermans, Tabrizs, French Aubussons, Quoms and Sarouks in a variety of weaving techniques: needlepoint, chain stitch, Selim or flat weave and traditional pile. The colors available are directly influenced by current interior design trends. Today's colors range from jewel tones of rose, ruby red, black, deep green and navy to muted colors such as teal, yellow, coral, peach, and blue green.

Many consumers today utilize oriental rugs in areas requiring non-traditional sizes. Consequently, requests of late have included sizes ranging from a 1 by 1 foot up to a 20 by 40 foot and runners up to 30 feet long, sometimes even longer. Many customers are purchasing scatter rugs which vary from 2 by 3 to 4 by 6 foot wide. Scatter rugs are used as accents in rooms that have carpeting or bare floors. Their popularity stems from the fact that they are smaller in sizes, are more affordable and there are more design possibilities.

By and large, room-size and scatter rugs remain the best-selling items. Where in the past a family might have been content with one Persian rug in their living room, for example, today they are decorating virtually every room in their house, bedroom, kitchen, bathroom, hallway, and stairs, with these colorful and durable rugs.

Consumers today not only enjoy the timeless beauty of these rugs, whether they be antiques or new, but also the fact that durable treasures can be passed on from generation to generation. In fact, older rugs that have been properly cared for can escalate in value and are among the most desirable and most expensive.

No wonder that in addition to being cherished by collectors and antique dealers, oriental rugs are sought after by investors, including large and small corporations. Orientals can be found adorning walls, as part of art collections, under the president's or partner's desk, or any other choice location. In addition to lending a feeling of mystery and intrigue, to many interiors, these centuries-old designs instill a sense of age and competence to their surroundings.

An eight foot round Indian Bijar rug sets off the dining area in style (left). The Bijar area rug and Tabriz design runner are warm and lively focal points in this handsome kitchen.

'At Home' Household Tips

BY MAXINE

Kitchen tips.

- Easy tips for light flaky crusts. Use very cold shortening. Use 1/3 as much shortening as flour.
- Mix crust the day before baking, and leave in refrigerator.
- Roll pastry lightly, using as little flour as possible. Roll from the center of the dough out and up. Not back and forth.
- For even brown crusts, brush lightly with milk, just before popping in the oven.
- To avoid soggy pie crusts, brush the pie crust with the beaten white of an egg, then sprinkle lightly with flour.

A moist cake

- Always put a shallow pan of water in the oven while the cake is baking. Then, the heat will not rob moisture from the cake.
- Eliminate air bubbles in the cake by rapping pans sharply on counter top before placing in oven.
- To get smooth cake slices and to avoid crumbling when slicing fresh cakes, dip your knife in a glass of cold water.

Good coffee

- How about a good cup of coffee, just add one pinch of salt in the basket and that will remove some of the acid taste.
- For clear coffee, put egg shells in after perking. And remember, always start with cold water.

Temperature control

- Wrapping a roast. Wrap a roast in a double thickness of foil or ten or more layers of newspaper to keep it hot for up to an hour. Food can be transported this way, too.
- In the oven. If your oven holds a very low temperature, set it at 140 degrees or warm. Cover the hot food with a loose tent of foil or the cover of a pan set slightly askew...not tight or the food will steam. It will keep hot an hour or more.

Boxing in

- Hot casseroles or a Dutch oven filled with hot foods, covered or well wrapped, can be stored or transported in an insulated picnic

Uses for Nonstick vegetable spray

Silver cleaner

- Here's a quick way to remove tarnish from a silver ring or other small item. Cover the bottom of a heat-proof glass cup with a piece of aluminum foil-shiny side up. Add a tablespoon of baking soda and the ring, then pour boiling water into the cup to cover it. Wait a few seconds, then remove, rinse and dry the ring. The tarnish is left on the foil. (Warning) Dark accents on raised designs will also vanish.)

Yeast dough

- Spray your bowl before setting the dough in it to rise. Then before kneading, use nonstick spray on your counter or table.

- Spaghetti sauce staining your plastic food-storage containers? Spray the inside of the container before adding any tomato-based sauce.

- carrier. The food will stay hot longer if the carrier is filled. Stuff any spaces with crumpled paper.
- Use an ice bucket with a cover to keep stews, soups, etc. hot for an hour or longer. Rinse the bucket in hot water first to warm it. Don't use thin plastic foam types because the food may leak.

Canned ice

- Use canned ice to set around foods on a buffet table or tuck in insulated bags in which cold foods are packed. To make it, fill sturdy plastic bags with ice cubes and water and freeze solid; or fill empty milk cartons 3/4 full with water, freeze and set upright in a picnic bag; or use plastic bowls with tight-fitting covers, then submerge them in bowls of food.
- Individual cans of frozen fruit and vegetable juices can be used in the same way, and they'll also provide the mealtime beverage.

Your refrigerator

- Chill plates, serving bowls, platters and serving pieces about 15 minutes before adding chilled foods.
- Many foods, such as cut fruit and milk, can be given an extra chill by placing them in the freezer for 15 minutes or so before serving them.

About eggs

- To determine whether an egg is fresh without breaking the shell, immerse the egg in a pan of cool, salted water. If it sinks to the bottom, it is fresh. If it rises to the surface, it is stale.
- Fresh eggs are rough and chalky in appearance. Old eggs are smooth and shiny.
- To determine whether an egg is hard-boiled, spin it. If it spins round and round, it is hard-boiled. If it wobbles and will not spin, it is raw.
- How to prepare a hard-boiled egg, don't laugh, there's more to it than you think. Place eggs in a pan, cover with cold water and sprinkle in some salt. The salt will keep the eggs from oozing out if the shells crack while cooking. Bring to a boil and simmer gently for 10 minutes. Drain off the hot water and place in cold water. Allow to cool. This will make peeling easier and will prevent a green ring around the yolk.

Home Project

Decorative door rack holds extra towels

If towel rods and wall space are in short supply in your bathroom, you'll appreciate this handy rack that hangs out of the way on the back of the door. Hung with a colorful collection of bath and hand towels, it becomes a decorative as well as useful addition to any bathroom.

The rack provides almost five lineal feet of rod space and is easily made from standard size western lumber. You'll find that western softwoods are easy to work with and require no special skills or expensive tools.

The project shown in the illustration is 24 inch wide, 3 1/2 inch deep and 60 inch high to the top of the door. However, the dimensions can be adjusted to fit the space you have available. Before you start, make sure the door will open fully when the unit is installed.

The towel rack consists of a 1x4 frame and center divider, with one-inch wood dowels serving as rods. To build it, you will need two five-foot lengths of 1x4 for the vertical frame and two 23 inch lengths for the top and bottom frame. You will also need a 42 inch length of 1x4 for the center divider and six feet of one-inch wood doweling for the rods. The only tools required are a tape measure, saw, hammer, screwdriver, drill and a one-inch drill bit.

Glue and nail the vertical members to the top and bottom frame, using two-inch finishing nails. Position the top frame 41 inch above the lower frame. Trim the center divider to fit snugly between the top and bottom frame, then center it between the vertical members and glue and nail in place.

Mark the location of the towel rods on the frame and divider, making sure the rods will be level; drill one-inch holes through the 1x4s to support the rods. (To make drilling easier, mark and drill all holes before assembling the frame). Measure and cut doweling so it extends through the 1x4s on both ends. Glue in place. Sand the ends of the dowels so they are flush with the frame.

Stain or paint the wood to complement your decor. Or finish it with a coat of clear varnish to protect against dirt and moisture. For extra towel storage, additional rods may be installed above the frame.

If the bathroom door is hollow core, the rack must be mounted to the solid "rail" at the top of the door. The rail is normally 1 1/2 inch deep, but tap gently with a hammer to make sure. To mount the rack, attach a flat metal bracket to the top of the vertical members, on the back side. Attach the other end of the bracket to the solid door rail. Use 1 1/4 inch screws to install the brackets. Secure the bottom of the rack to the door with carpenter's glue or metal L-brackets.

Details in Decorating

Need an answer to a decorating problem or maybe a new idea?...Just ask Carolyn

Q. Help! I've gotten to the point in decorating our living room that I'm sure I need professional help. I decided that I wanted a neutral color scheme because I wanted the room to stay bright and large looking, however, now it looks big and bare! How can I warm it up, and add some pizzazz?

L. Stevens, Libertyville

A. You need to find a print that you really love and pull at least two and possibly three colors from it. Introduce these colors into the room by using them in combinations in the matings of your artwork, throw pillows for your sofa, and an area carpet. Use the print, itself, as the upholstery for an upholstered chair and some additional pillows in the room.

Q. We've just moved into a new home, and I want it to look inviting but be functional for my family as well. My three children range in ages from two to nine, so I feel that the furnishings should still be childproof in some regards. Window treatments are a big question. I know custom made can be terribly expensive. What can I do?

J. Sawallich, Lindenhurst

A. Custom made window treatments are not always expensive! Look at vertical blinds, for instance, you can choose from a variety of colors and patterns now in PVC vinyl. They're the least expensive price group and they're childproof, so you've accomplished two objectives in one. Don't go for the valance that can be made for them. Do something easy and smart looking to go over them in fabric, that way, you'll really have a "custom" look! When looking at shades for children's bedrooms, plain roller shades in blackout vinyl can work just as well as the more expensive honeycomb pleated shade, and again dress it up with a unique top treatment.

Q. We've just painted our house a country grey/blue with white trim. I really love it so much that I would like to take the same color scheme to the interior. Is this over-kill?

R. Dion, Lake Zurich

A. I have always felt that the success of a decorating scheme is continuity. The colors on the outside of the house should relate to the colors on the inside. A thread of one dominant color should weave itself throughout all the rooms. Building on the blue and white colors from the exterior, incorporate them in your living and dining rooms. Continue this by adding a warm color to the kitchen. For example, paint the walls yellow and use blue and white accents.

Q. We have a kitchen with plenty of light and a long bar we use for a table. This bar separates the kitchen and living area. Anyone sitting on the living room side of the bar must eat in total darkness. There is no light there. My husband wants to install track lighting over the bar so we can point the light into the living room. Track lights will only shine in our eyes. Besides, I want something dressier. What do you think?

D. Williams, Grayslake
A. You're both right - partially! Use the track lighting over the counter, heads pointing straight down, with 75-watt flood lamps on a dimmerswitch to control the light evenly.

Q. I am a Senior Citizen, and am about to move into a condominium. I need advice on colors to use in the living and dining rooms. All of my furniture is light birch wood. The sofa and a chair are a dark brown satin. Two other chairs are a shade of dusty rose. What colors should I choose for carpeting, draperies, and walls?

V. Jones, Vernon Hills

A. Keep what you have and leave your options open by using a heathery neutral berber-style (Continued on page 27) to the brown satin without making the room appear too grand.

... Your own garden

by randee rian

April is the planning and planting time for the early spring garden. The seed catalogs were mailed to many gardeners in February, in case you didn't receive yours, here are some addresses of my favorites:

Park Seed Co.,
Cokebury Rd.,
Greenwood, SC 29647.
W. Atlee Burpee and
Co., Warminster, PA
18974.
Stokes Seeds, Inc., Box
548, Buffalo, NY 14240.

Soon you'll be able to plant the early cool weather-loving vegetables, English and sugar-snap peas and spinach. Do take advantage of this tasty spring specialty and plant enough to enjoy and share.

Peas

Fresh from your garden, peas are delicious raw. The flavor of garden-fresh peas is vastly superior to that of peas bought in the store or even at a roadside stand. That's because the sugar content starts to turn to starch almost immediately after they are harvested.

Peas grow best during cool weather, make the first planting in spring as early as the soil can be worked. To extend your harvest, sow seeds again two or three times at 10-day intervals. Peas stand light frost but do prepare to cover them if weather should become bad.

Because mature pea vines need support, trellises or pea fences are always recommended. Every year I go into the woods and gather fallen branches left from the winter's kill and carry them back to the garden. By pushing them into the soil in rows, I create a perfect "support system" for the growing pea plants, inexpensive and natural. An enjoyable early spring vegetable to grow and eat.

Peas

Spinach

Spinach is the first crop I plant, the day the seeds go into the ground symbolizes the real beginning of spring to me. In just a few weeks after planting, we'll be enjoying the thinnings in salads, a true spring delicacy.

I like to prepare a spot for spinach in the fall so, come spring, I'll be able to plant the day the ground thaws a depth of a couple of inches. Spinach loves the cool weather and will not grow well in summer. When this early crop is finished in late spring, you'll have to wait until August or September before planting a fall crop.

There are several varieties to choose from but I recommend the Bloomsdale Long-Standing and the Melody hybrid. Both are quick growing, thick textured and slow to bolt. To harvest, cut the entire plant back to one-inch from the crown. The plants will still continue to produce.

Celebrate Arbor Day April 26—Plant a Tree

One of the most obvious features of an established, mature neighborhood is its trees. They provide an atmosphere that just isn't there in the new developments, says James A. Fizzell, horticulturist for the Univ. of Illinois in Cook County.

Trees provide shade. They screen homes from each other and provide backdrops for the landscape. And, continues Fizzell, they give a feeling of security and permanence.

On a more practical level Fizzell says, trees are natural air conditioners. If you have suddenly driven into a wooden area on a hot summer day you know what a difference trees can make. The power savings for air conditioning a shaded house verses one in full sun can be sizeable. Trees purify the air by removing contaminants and produce oxygen as the photosynthesize. Properly located trees protect your home from winds, especially in winters, and can reduce heating loss from infiltration.

Trees throughout Chicagoland have suffered from the unusual weather the last decade. Also, many trees are now getting old. Many were planted around the turn of the century as this area developed, or in the 50's after the Dutch elm disease.

Trees planed at the same time will generally begin to die out at the same time. It is essential that we continue to plant trees so that our children and grandchildren can enjoy them. If it were not for our ancestors planting trees for us, we would not be enjoying them today. I really get annoyed when I hear people say "Why should I plant a tree, I won't be here to enjoy it?", Fizzell comments. Some entire countries such as China and India which were once wooded are now denuded. Only now are people beginning to plant trees.

Before rushing out to buy a tree, think about where it will go, how big it will get, whether it will shade the house when you need shade, etc. In general, large deciduous trees should be planted on the south and west sides of the house so that they shade in summer and not in winter. Plant evergreens and trees such as the oak, the hold their leaves all winter to the north. Large trees should be at least 15 to 20 feet away from the house and far enough from walks and drives to avoid lifting by roots.

Lists of desirable trees for this area are available from local extensions of the Univ. of Illinois educational resource centers Try to select several different varieties so that if a disease affects one, the others will survive. Let's not repeat the Dutch elm or chestnut blight plagues.

Plan to participate in the Arbor Day programs in your community, at your local school, or park district. Many of these programs will provide tree seedlings for you to take home and plant. Set these tiny trees in a protected place where they can grow a few years before transplanting to a permanent place.

Spring lawn care tips: Fertilizing

Fertilizing your lawn doesn't have to be a big mystery. The basic rule is this—fertilize about a month after the grass starts growing and again about a month before it goes dormant. In early spring a lawn greens up just naturally. But eventually it begins to deplete food reserves stored in the root system. That's why it's necessary to feed the lawn after it starts growing. If you use a mix with a pre-emergent herbicide to prevent grassy weed seeds from sprouting, then time the feeding before the weed seeds sprout.

It's important to apply fertilizer because a lawn need the nutrients to create food for health and stamina. Nitrogen helps the lawn maintain a green color. Phosphorus strengthens the root system. Potassium helps prevent disease problems.

The job of the root system is to collect these nutrients, plus water and air, and move them into the green grass blades. Chlorophyll in the grass blades acts as a catalyst, allowing sunlight to change the nutrients into sugars. Some of the sugars are used to grow more grass blades; some are stored in the root system to help the turf survive a period of stress.

Film Review

Gene Hackman is one of Hollywood's best and busiest actors, turning out more than a flick a year. All of them are not great, but anything with Hackman in it (excepting his foray with La Streisand in "All Night Long") is not only worth seeing, but boxoffice gold.

Gene Hackman, Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio.

His latest endeavor, "Class Action" keeps up with the times and the popularity of courtroom dramas.

The plot pits Atty. Hackman against his own daughter, played by Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio in a David versus Goliath business lawsuit.

Hackman is the champion of the downtrodden while his daughter is busy making legal good marks for herself on her corporate climb to the top of the rich legal ladder of success.

Hackman does a superb job in playing the "storefront" kind of lawyer going up against his more polished, but in the long run less skilled daughter. He has mastered the tough, diamond-in-the-rough portrayal, becoming identified with it more and more whether he's playing a high school basketball coach behind the eight-ball as in "Hoosiers," a phillandering politician in "No Way Out," or the text-book good guy fighting for right against might.

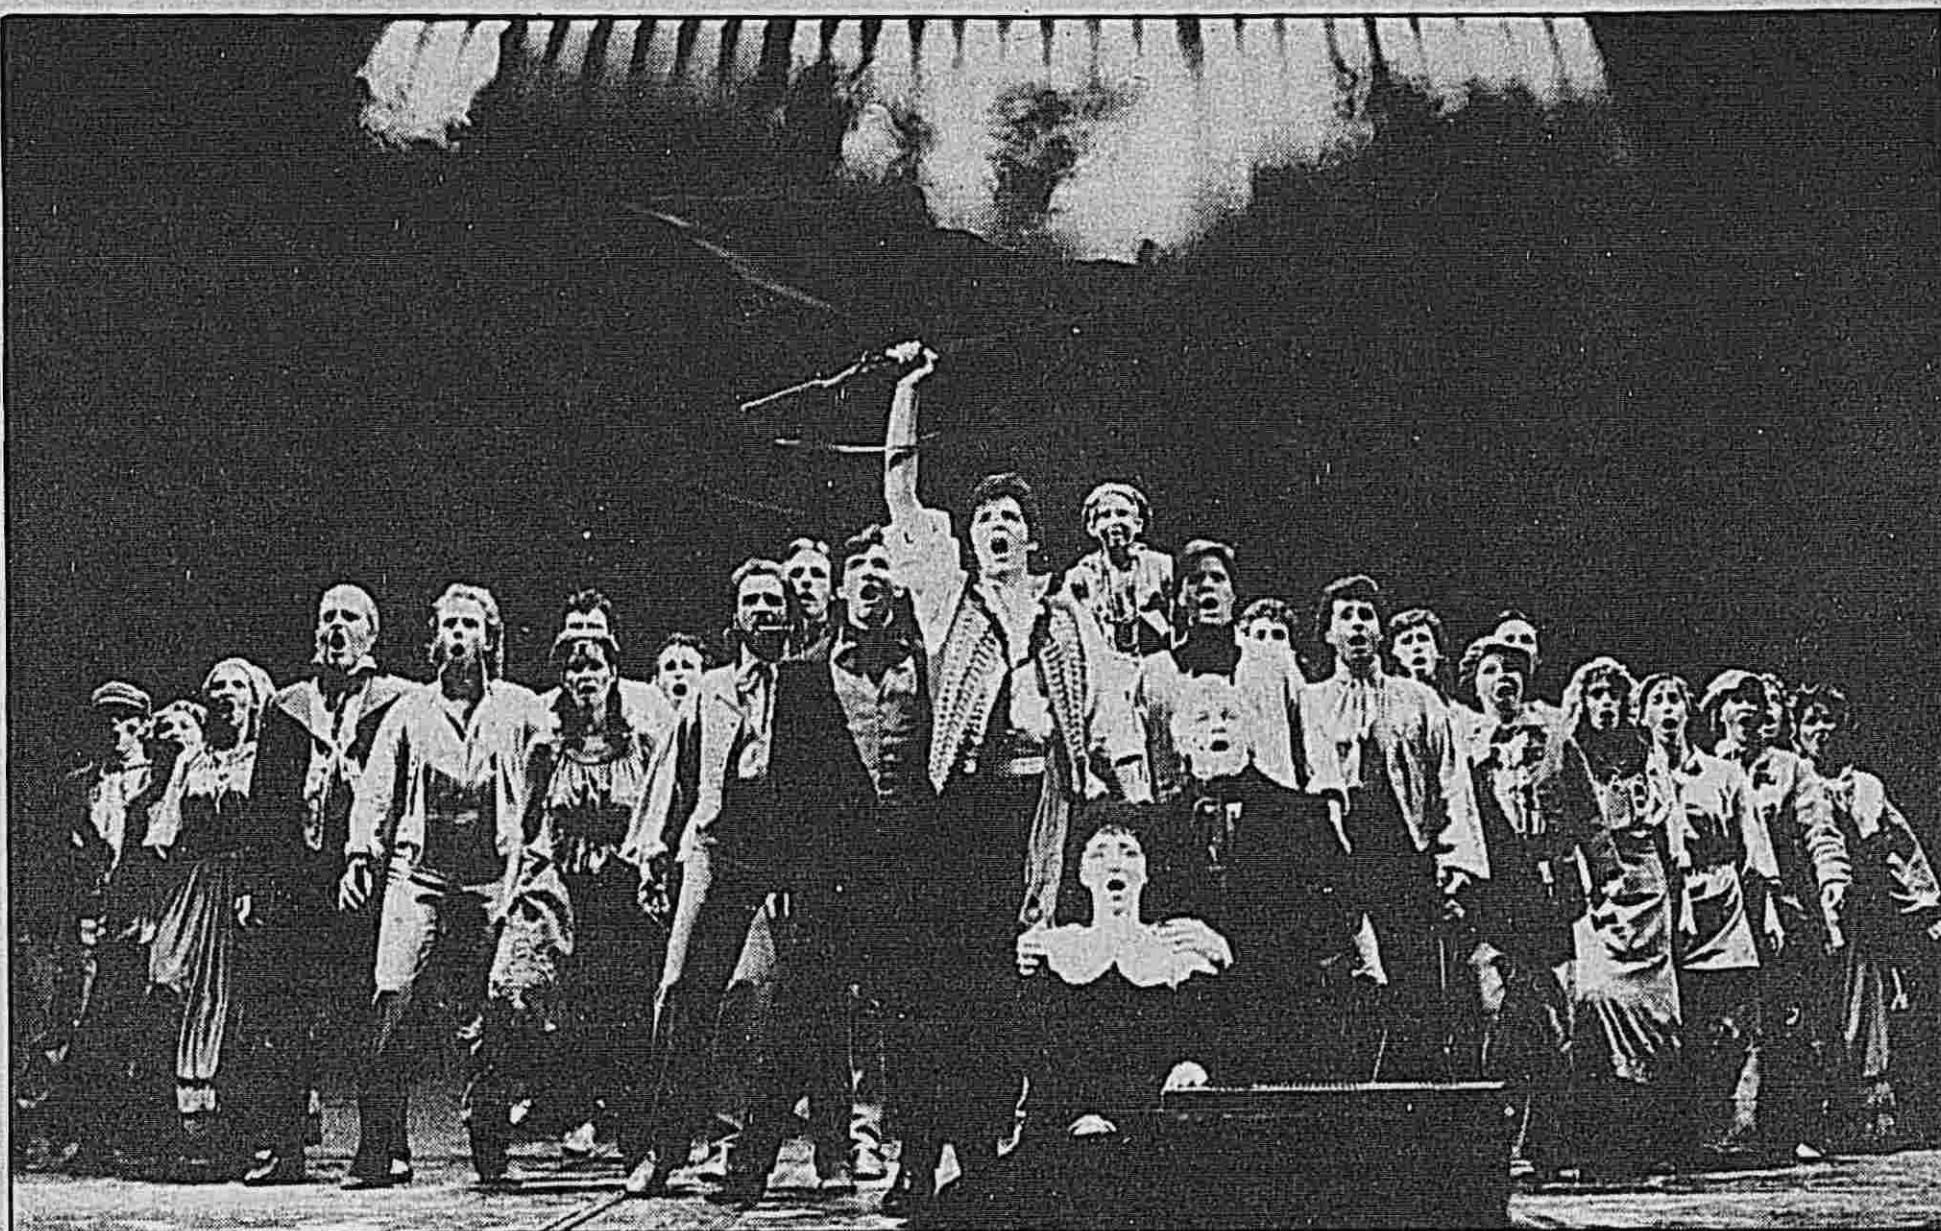

Mastrantonio is effervescent and assured as the two are really fighting the age-old battle of morality versus moneybags and power, or the in-establishment against the idealists.

We give this one a 4.5 out of 5 points. It's even worth paying the full $6.50 to see it first run. Many moviegoers were of the same opinion since it led in boxoffice receipts in the first two weeks of its release.

Be There

The College of Lake County's second spring theater production, "Mill Fire," will be presented at 8 p.m. on April 12, 13 19 and 20 in the auditorium at the Grayslake campus.

The David Adler Cultural Center in Libertyville will be featuring two events through May 16. "Vessels: Real and Imaginary" brings together artists who create works in clay, sometimes utilitarian and sometimes aesthetic, along with a show featuring Irene Ryan Maloney's series of paintings titled "Night Pools."

'Miserable' returns

The Chicago Auditorium Theatre is again hosting the Victor Hugo classic story turned into an award-winning musical 'Les Miserables.' See Lakeland theater critic Tom Witom's review of this production. Gurnee resident Jeanne Croft plays the Factory Girl in the Chicago company directed by John Caird and Trevor Nunn.

'Les Miz' continues to be enthralling

by TOM WITOM

"Les Miserables," the Victor Hugo classic set to music, is making a welcome return visit at Chicago's Auditorium Theater after a two-year absence.

The sweeping look at 19th Century French history has lost none of its punch. There's so much to like about this timeless musical. The ensemble is new, but well synchronized. And there's the same magnificent rolling set, including the realistic battlement that figures prominently in the Revolution scenes.

"Les Miz," directed by John Caird and Trevor Nunn, captivates repeat audiences and first-timers alike.

Mark McKerracher oozes passion as the fugitive Jean Valjean whose heroism and integrity serve as a model for all around him. His touching rendition of "Bring Him Home" is a show stopper.

Meanwhile, Richard Kinsey captures the

Folk singers set at Adler Center

Folk songs and tunes of the British Isles and the United States will be featured when Martin and Jessica Simpson perform in concert at 8 p.m., on Saturday, April 13, at the David Adler Center in Libertyville.

Martin Simpson was born in northern England while Jessica Radcliff Simpson is a California native.

She is a respected singer and songwriter who has traveled throughout the U. S., Britain and Ireland.

Concert admission is $6 for adults; $4 for Center members; $3 for seniors and children, five-15; and free for children four years of age and under.

Chicago Pops to perform at CLC

The Chicago Pops orchestra, under the baton of widely acclaimed violinist, composer and conductor Arnold Brostoff, will perform in concert at the College of Lake County at 8 p.m., on Saturday, April 27, at the CLC auditorium, 19351 W. Washington St., Grayslake.

The Americana program will feature the music of Joplin, Berlin, Anderson and more.

The 17-member orchestra, composed of members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, has dazzled audiences throughout the United States with their fresh, imaginative programming and superior quality of performance.

Critics have praised their refined musical interpretation of Beethoven's Fifth as highly as their performances of Sousa and Gershwin.

Conductor Brostoff has been a member of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra since 1964. A former member of the Boston Pops Orchestra and the Rochester Philharmonic, Brostoff has performed in concert in the United States and Europe.

He has composed and conducted music for the 1927 silent film classic, "Love," which was presented by members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra at Orchestra Hall.

Tickets are $10 general admission and $5 for CLC students and senior citizens. For tickets, call (708)223-6601, ext. 300, or (708)433-7884.

Hoke turns his music into teaching business

Jeff Hoke

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Jeff Hoke has been making his hobby his career for almost five years, not only teaching percussion instrument playing, but also performing.

Hoke, who lives in Wildwood, is literally plying his trade all over Lake County presenting percussion clinics at area high schools and junior high schools.

His next clinic is scheduled to be held from 7 to 8:30 p.m., on Thursday, April 18, at the Music Source on Rte. 45 in Wildwood. Admission is free.

Jeff will also be performing on drums on April 16, 23 and 30, from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m., at the Kismet Cafe on Genesee St. in Waukegan. Cover charge is $2.

After studying at the College of Lake County and Augustana College, winning many top music awards at both, Jeff got into the teaching aspect as a percussion instructor at Warren Twp. High School, and the Village Music Store in Libertyville during his college summers.

He has also taught at the Music Gallery in Highwood and Mundelein High School.

Last summer, a highlight of his career as a drummer came when he received the Rimshot Drumstick's endorsement.

Meanwhile, teaching others to be percussionists is his avocation as he continues touring Lake County with his clinics.

He will also hold a clinic North Chicago High School on May 5.

He also continues teaching privately at three locations, Lake County Music and Sound in Mundelein, the Music Gallery and the Music Source in Grayslake.

At present he is enjoying instructing 50 students whom he feels have made notable progress and "are some of the best players for their age in the area."

Jeff teaches all styles on the drum set as well as the rudiments, auxiliary percussion and Brazilian percussion. His students range in age from seven to 28 years old.

Jeff says, "I place a great deal of emphasis on the basics of reading, writing, practice habits and tuning. The best drummers are the ones with a good solid foundation to stand on and I remind my students of this every week."

Keeping up with the times, Jeff also teaches electronic percussion and triggering, mostly to drummers in the professional caliber who want some of their questions on electronics answered.

Jeff expects to continue something he started working with his high school drumline and the Des Moines Marching Scarlets, as he takes on three new drum-lines from Mundelein, Warren Twp. and Wauconda high schools this spring.

"I believe marching units are effective in teaching young musicians to work together towards a common goal. Whether or not the students go on in music, it's still important to learn to work as a team," he said.

A Different Way to Cruise

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Ocean travel by freighter may bring about visions of sleeping in hammocks below deck in some dark, damp hole. Not so.

Most passenger carrying freighters offer accommodations far superior to even the luxury berths on passenger cruise ships. That's because you will be staying in a suite which was built for the lines' owners.

You're not going to be eating bologna sandwiches with the crew, either. You'll dine with the captain and 1st officer on some of the best food at sea.

You will have plenty of time to meet and interact with the rest of the crew, since you will probably be one of only 4 to 10 passengers on the ship.

What these passenger carrying freighters have lacked until now was the activities available on standard cruise liners.

Enter the Norwegian-flagged vessel "Americana."

Doubling as both a freighter and a passenger luxury liner, the Americana offers the best of both worlds.

Sailing eight times a year from Elizabeth, N.J. to South America, the Americana can carry 88 passengers in addition to its cargo of containers, tractor trailers and cranes. Creature comforts include a pool, Jacuzzi, sauna, masseuse, hair salon, gym, and valet laundry. There is even a cocktail lounge complete with a pianist and some local entertainers while in port. While there is no actual casino, there are five slot machines waiting to take your money.

Accommodations range from two 500 sq. ft. owners' suites to eight outside single cabins sold with no single surcharge. Even the single cabins are 133 sq. ft. All have minibars; safe, color T.V., VCR and full bath with tub. (Single cabins have shower only).

Passengers still have ample opportunity to interact with the sailors. In fact, the officers and staff and the passengers become almost "family" by the end of the cruise.

Price for the full 46 day cruise starts at about $6,900, though you can book segments of the itinerary separately.

It's easy to tell when spring has sprung, asparagus is plentiful in supermarket produce sections.

"For people who love asparagus, the season just isn't long enough, says Sheryl Sallgren, who organizes a National Asparagus Festival in Michigan each June. The festival rotates among small towns and draws fans from all over the country for square dancing, an arts and crafts show, a talent show, two parades and an asparagus smorgasbord.

The American Dairy Assn. looks forward to asparagus season, too, because the vegetable is a natural partner for dairy foods. A successful recipe begins with the fresh vegetable.

When shopping for asparagus, look for purple-tinged, tight-budded spears. They should be even-sized, at least one-half inch in diameter, and at least two-thirds green. Avoid any stalk with a large, woody, hard, white base.

Asparagus is best cooked the same day it is purchased, but will keep three to four days in the refrigerator. To store asparagus, remove the very end of the stalks and store them upright in one-inch of water and covered with plastic wrap.

When it comes to preparing spears for cooking, pay no attention to what you've heard about eating only the part of the stalk that snaps off easily. Julie Childs' method is far less wasteful. She recommends peeling the stalk; this increases the amount of edible vegetable. Use a small, sharp paring knife to cut under the thicker skin at the base of the stalk. Work toward the tip, making the cut shallower as you progress upward.

To complement the delicate flavor of asparagus, the American Dairy Assn. created and kitchen-tested two recipes. Asparagus with Parmesan cheese and bacon combines grated cheese, crisp bacon and sprightly green onions as a topping to the hot, tender asparagus spears.

The companion recipe, Chilled Asparagus Salad, is adapted from a salad served at a popular New York restaurant and contrasts crisp asparagus pieces with the smooth lemon yogurt based dressing. Both recipes are simple, but make the most of the flavorful fresh asparagus and the convenience of dairy products that complement it so well.

asparagus with parmesan cheese and bacon

- 3 Tbls. butter
- 2 Tbls. minced green onion
- 4 slices bacon, cooked, drained, crumbled
- 1/3 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/8 tsp. pepper

2 lbs. medium asparagus, trimmed
Melt butter in small skillet. Saute onion until tender, about three minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in bacon, cheese and pepper. Meanwhile, steam asparagus until tender, about eight minutes. Drain. Place hot asparagus on serving dish. Sprinkle with cheese mixture. Serve immediately.

Makes six servings.

chilled asparagus salad

- 2 lbs. thin asparagus, trimmed
- 2 hard cooked eggs, peeled
- 1 container (8 ounces) lowfat, lemon yogurt
- 2 Tbls. fresh lemon juice
- 1 Tbl. grated lemon peel
- 1 Tbl. butter, melted
- 1/8 tsp. each, salt and pepper

Steam asparagus just until tender, about five minutes. Rinse in cold water; drain. Pat asparagus dry with paper toweling. Cut into 1/2-inch long pieces. Separate egg whites and yolk; chop each. Combine yogurt, lemon juice, peel, butter, salt and pepper in large bowl. Add asparagus and chopped egg. Toss to combine. Refrigerate, covered, one to two hours to allow flavors to blend.
Makes four to six servings.

Pats tracksters shake off early doubts, opponents

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Judging by the way the Stevenson High School boys track and field team has dominated its own invitational in the past decade, one might expect Coach Hank Andrew to be making a place in the trophy case for the first-place trophy before the Friday night event.

But going into the meet, Andrew was not sure just what to expect.

"Not really," Andrew said when asked if he was anticipating another win. "It was our first meet. We have 10 seniors and 85-90 underclassmen on the team. With that many on the team, we were not sure at all what would happen. Highland Park has some strong performers, and Antioch had some strong distance runners and weights and Warren had a bunch of sophomores on the varsity last year," Andrew said.

But by the time the dust settled this balmy spring night, Stevenson again taking the victory lap, finishing first with 75 points. Antioch was a strong second with 51, followed by Warren's 39.5, giving the North Suburban Conference schools a clean sweep of the top three places.

Stevenson, which battled NSC rival Libertyville in a dual meet Thursday, is off until a conference meet at Mundelein with Fenton April 15. Most county teams, including third-place finisher Warren, will be at the Deerfield meet April 13.

Stevenson showed its wealth of talent in recording nine first-place finishers and setting several new records. Antioch had four first-place finishers.

Stevenson distance specialist Pat Joyce, only a sophomore, won the 800 and 3,200 meter runs. "We've been working on his technique. Before, he would only have one gear. This year he has three," Andrew said.

Also turning in strong performances for Stevenson was the triple jump effort, which garnered first place and broke the former record by five feet. Seniors Brian Bresen and George Farrow and junior Tom Mason finished with a record-setting 127' 2 and one-quarter inch mark. Grant's Mike Rayniak, Jason Hurdless and Demian Vela were next at 114' eight and one-half inch.

The frosh-soph sprint relay team also won a first place for Stevenson as did the varsity 800 medley relay contingent.

Carmel was second in the 800 medley relay, Warren third, Highland Park fourth and Round Lake fifth.

Stevenson's long jump team of Bresen, Mason and Farrow, earned a first with Highland Park second, Grant third and Niles West and Warren fourth and fifth.

Antioch's 3,200 relay edged Stevenson for top honors, 8:28.2 to 8:30.15. John Frayer, Mike Agree, Brad Erickson and Scott Lipski teamed up for the Antioch win over Jon Ebert, Phil Odisho, Mike Camodeca and Joyce. Carmel's Matt Stasick, Mike Carlton, Mark Hartford and Sean Dillon were third. Warren's Glenn Shoda, Rob Beake, Jeff Haug and Satha Lor were fourth followed by Mundelein's Jeff Ray, Dan and Del Lowrance, and Pat Clauser.

"It really looked good for the first meet outside," Antioch Coach Norm Hahn said of the 3,200 team.

Other Antioch highlights the discus team set a meet record with a 385', 10 and one-half effort, topping a 366', one-half inch effort by Stevenson. Round Lake was fourth and Warren fifth.

"I'm really happy with that. With our second and third-place finishes, we were able to stay in the meet," Warren Coach Ron Taulu said.

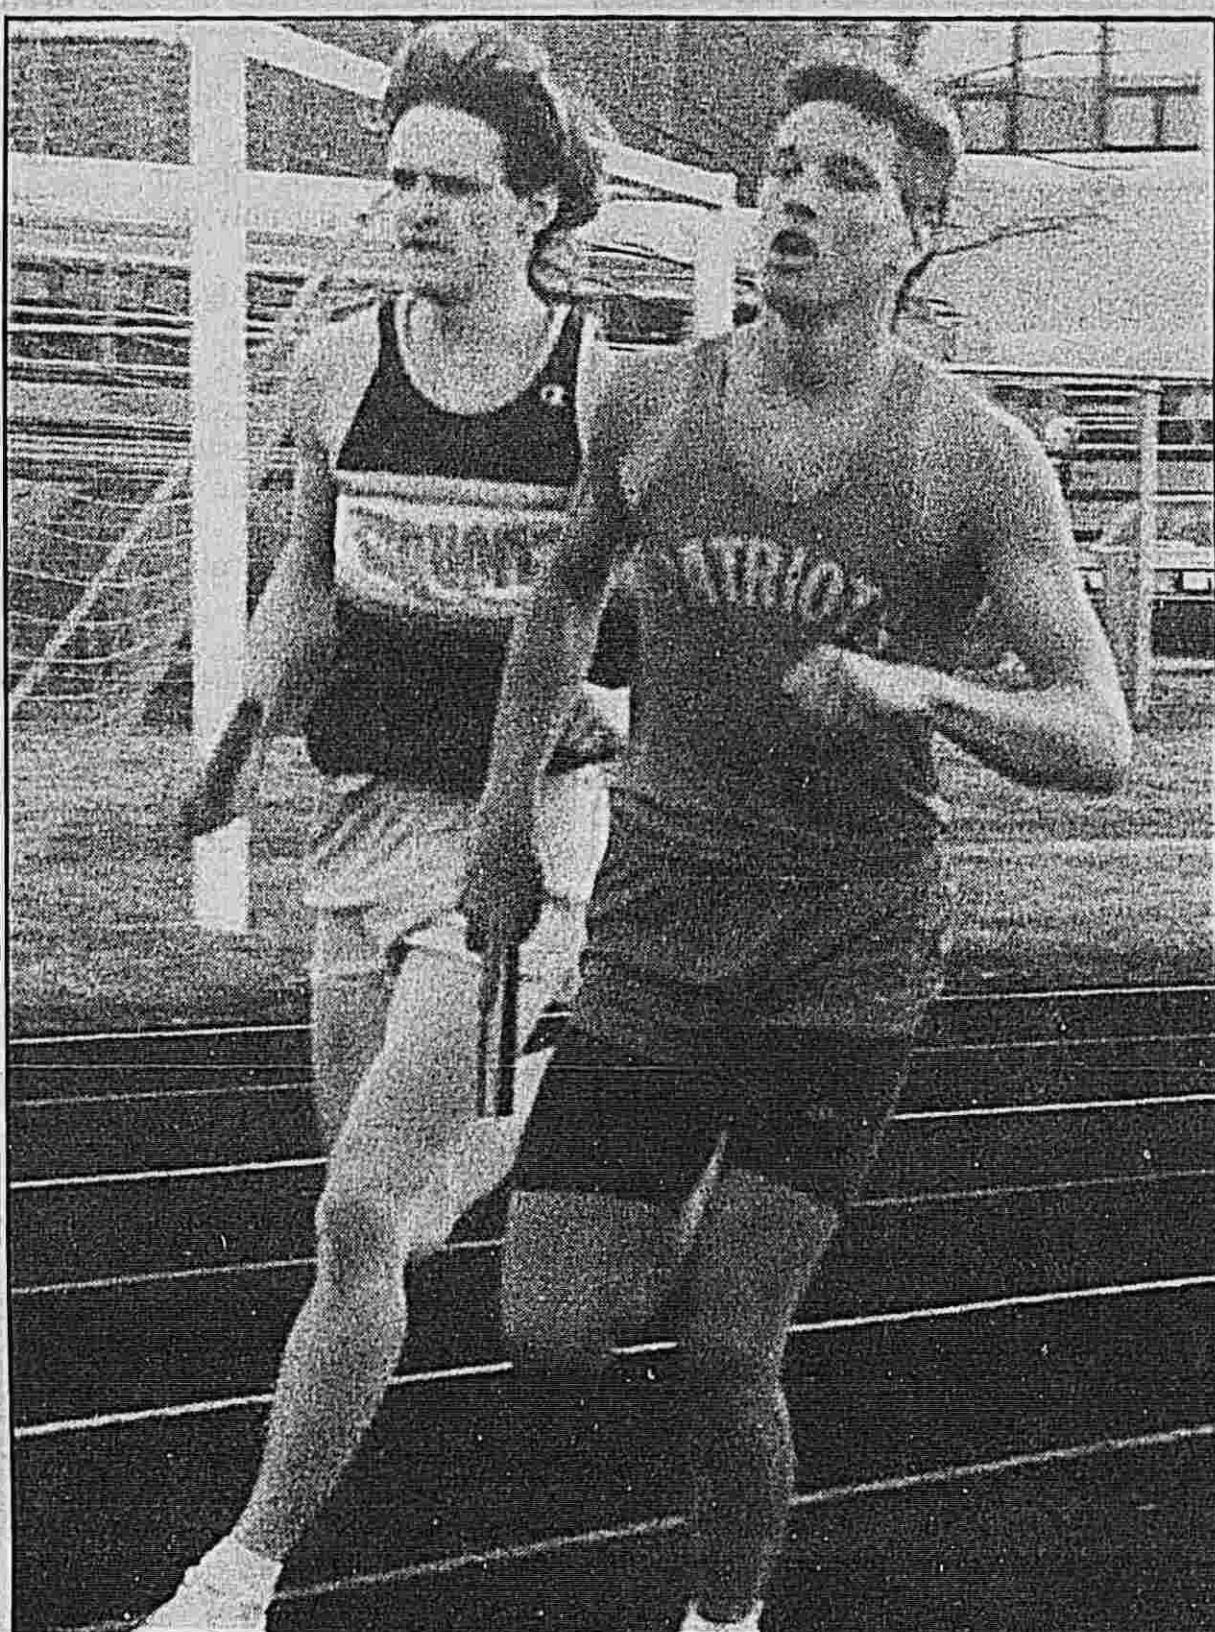

Highlights for Warren included a second-place in the frosh-soph 400 and 800 relays. The team of Ayesu Lartey, Hreg Herlithy, Jason Shanmrock and Jay Bouma had a time of 48.3, finishing second to Stevenson in both events. The frosh-soph 1,600 medley relay team was third behind Niles West and Stevenson.

The shot put effort, led by Tim Kohn, Tom Hill and Jason Croft, had a 121' three and one-half inch effort, good for third behind Antioch and Mundelein.

The varsity 400 meter shuttle relay team of Jim Gramer, Mike Milowski, Mike Wells and Morton Strand was also third, behind Stevenson and Antioch.

The varsity 800 meter relay team of Jamie Marineau, Dave Gunderson, Hombre Darby and Shannon Moore, was third behind Stevenson and Carmel.

Jay Johnson, Bill Walther and Sean McGruder were third in the high jump behind Niles West and Stevenson.

Making the turn

Antioch's John Frayer, left and Stevenson's Jon Ebert battle for the lead in the 3,200 medley relay. Antioch won the event with a time of 8:28.2 to Stevenson's 8:30.15. Stevenson, though, won the meet over second-place Antioch by a 24-point margin.

Track proves family effort for RL, Grant

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

When it comes to Round Lake High School track and field meets this year, one can usually count on a certainty.

The Benz family will have a reason for attending most, if not all, Round Lake meets. For the Benz clan is represented by not just one, but three family members as the new season unfolds.

"We all do different things, but we like to help each other," Marc Benz said.

Marc and his twin brother Eric are on the varsity team while younger brother, Cliff, is on the frosh-soph team for the Panthers. Marc specializes in pole vaulting and helped teammates John Fairgrave and Justin Zdeb gain a third-place finish at the Patriot Relays at Stevenson High School Friday night.

Marc Benz was coming off an effort of 10-6 in a dual meet against Waukegan. He successfully cleared all the bar heights, but the winning height was 11 feet. Stevenson's Dan Giard, Rich Bouchez and Mike Zazekis won the event with a 30-0 effort and Antioch's Ruben Bonaes, Matt Beattie and Al Rentsch were second at 29-6. Grant was fourth and Warren fifth.

The pole vaulters often find themselves pulling for another vaulter to clear the bar. "It's good for competition," Marc Benz said.

Like any other sport, the pole vaulter with the home track does have an edge. "At home, you know just how to find your spot," Marc Benz said.

Benz has been pole vaulting for three years now. The pole vault event has come under discussion by track and field experts for safety concerns of late. "The biggest fear is hitting the pit," Benz said.

The meet as a whole was a tough one for the Northwest Suburban Conference entries, Round Lake and Grant. Round Lake had 18 points for seventh place and Grant had 15 points for eighth. Neither team had a first-place finish.

Round Lake, in addition to the pole vault, had a fourth place finish in the shot put and discus. Steve Pressoir, Shane Shantana and John Wheeler had a 117-4. The same threesome had a 353', three and one-half inch effort in the discus.

The Panthers' Tom Thompson, Eric Bear, Mike Stark and Rusty Nofsinger were third in the varsity distance medley relay.

"We have a lot of young sophomores," Round Lake Coach Kevin Dempsey said of his team.

Several football players are out for track this year at RL. These include hurdler-linebacker Marx Drath, Whitten and Santana. "We need several players to get healthy," Dempsey said.

For Grant, Coach Sam Spasojevich is terming this year's contingent again a young one. Key seniors are Vela in the triple jump, Tony Van Sickle in the shot put, Joel Pardubski in the relays.

"We like to think we can contend for a conference title," Spasojevich said. The Bulldogs were second to Lake Zurich last year.

Grant's highlight at Stevenson came in the triple jump. Mike Rayniak, Jason Hurdless and Vela combined for a 114' eight and one-half inch effort, good for second behind Stevenson.

Round Lake does not have the corner on the market on brother combinations in the NWSC. Tom and Mike Rayniak, juniors, are twin brothers at Grant and were both in the 1600 medley relay team which finished third at Stevenson. Grant also had a third-place finish in the 400 meter relay.

The long jump, with Vela, Jason Hurdless and John Paprawski was third.

Runners aim to lead the pack as the varsity 3,200 meter relay event begins at Patriot Relays held at Stevenson. Host Stevenson won the meet by 24 points over runner-up Antioch. Antioch won the 3,200. Warren finished third in the meet.

Jones' clutch pin paces U.S. to wrestling victory

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Mike Jones carried in the flag and played a major role in carrying away the victory as the U.S. rallied to top Canada in an international dual wrestling meet at The College of Lake County.

Jones — a North Chicago product, All-American at Illinois State and Olympic hopeful — pinned Canada's Gavin Carrow in the opening seconds of their match at 220 pounds to boost the Americans. Matt Ghaffari wrapped it up for the U.S. with a 1-0 decision over Jeff Thue in the 286-pound division.

"Jones pinned him in the first 45 seconds, and it really excited the crowd," CLC wrestling coach Stan

Pasiewicz said. "Mike carried the U.S. flag in at the start of the matches."

Jones, who usually wrestles in the 198-pound class, has started training for a possible spot on the 1992 Olympic team. He used an inside leg trip to surprise Carrow.

The Americans and Canadians split the individual matches at 5-5. The Americans got the edge on Jones' pin — the only one of the night.

"It was a good night," Pasiewicz said of the evening, which also included matches between area preps and youth wrestlers. "The crowd this year was much more into it — probably because of the caliber of wrestling."

"The wrestling was outstanding. The American team wrestled real well. They were really up for it — psyched up for it. It was a good opportunity for the kids, the high school kids and coaches to see Olympic wrestling. Most of the Canadians and some of the Americans will be in the Olympics.

One highly anticipated prep match left Lake Zurich's Al Strobl with a 6-2 decision over Antioch's Tom Lehn. Strobl was the 1991 Class AA state champ at 160, while Lehn finished fourth at 171.

"Strobl and Lehn had one heck of a match," Pasiewicz said.

Grant strides for loop race

Grant's baseball team is hoping to gain some early ground in the Northwest Suburban Conference race and gain some respect from a Lake County powerhouse this week.

The Bulldogs, 2-3-1 on the early season, face North Suburban Conference power Libertyville in an away game April 13. After another non-conference game against Antioch April 15, the Bulldogs face Grayslake April 17 to start a stretch of league games.

Grant suffered a heartbreaking loss on Saturday, when the Bulldogs let a lead slip away and McHenry rallied for a 9-8 win. "We aren't playing very well, and when you're not playing well, you will get those kinds of losses," Grant Coach Fritz Kazlauskys said.

Grant led 8-7 after six innings, but McHenry added a run to tie the game in the sixth and then won the game in the seventh on Jeff Cable's home run.

Joe Gorski suffered the loss for Grant. Jason Amedio started the game and did not surrender a hit and had three strikeouts in two innings, but also had six walks.

Mike Pinkowski was three-for-three, Gorski three-for-four and Amedio two-for-three in Grant's 13-hit attack. One of Amedio's hits was a grand slam home run in the third which gave Grant a 4-1 lead.

Grant had a chance to take the lead in the seventh but could not score after having the bases loaded with one out.

Earlier, a game with Round Lake was suspended after eight innings and a 2-2 tie.

Mustang bats off to hot start for softball season

For those who believe hitting is ahead of pitching to start a softball season, a weekend of work by the Mundelein Mustangs may well be a rallying point.

The Mustangs outscored Crystal Lake South and Prospect by a combined 39-18 as Mundelein started the season with a 3-0 record.

"I'm very pleased with the start. The intensity level is very good," Mundelein Coach Perry Wilhelm said.

The doubleheader Saturday brought back some fond memories for Mundelein and some nightmarish ones for Prospect. For it was two years ago that Mundelein rallied in extra innings to down Prospect 6-5. By coincidence, that was the same score in Saturday's first game.

It was all Mundelein in game two as the Mustangs prevailed 15-2.

"It was a real tough game and reminiscent of the sectional game when we went downstate," Wilhelm said.

Freshman Tiffany Campbell, who was a seventh grader back in 1989, had the game-winning hit in the 10th inning, scoring Veronica Salazar.

Ironically, it was also an underclassman at the time, Deanna Deal, who singled home the winning run in the sectional title game.

Pam Weisner was the winning pitcher, as she allowed eight hits and struckout 11.

Mundelein took a 2-0 lead early. Prospect's big inning was the fifth, when the Knights scored four runs.

"They had a couple of opportunities, but each time they scored, we responded," Wilhelm said.

Mundelein got 13 walks in the second game to accompany 10 hits. All starters got at least one hit. Stacy Beese, Campbell and Weisner had two hits each. Dedal had one hit, with two RBIs and three runs scored.

Against Crystal Lake South, Miller picked up the win with four innings of work and Wiesner had the save. Deal led the attack with three-for-five, two runs scored and two RBIs.

Salazar was three-for-four and scored two runs and Sharon Hamm was two-for-four with a three-run homer.

Tarilyn Starkey had a solo homer in the third.

Mundelein outhit the Gators 13-9.

Mundelein travels to New Trier to complete the non-conference schedule April 12 before hosting Zion-Benton in the North Suburban Conference opener April 13 at 1:30 p.m.

JHS softball team wins two

Johnsburg softball pitcher Wendy Whittlinger has led the Skyhawks off to a strong start this spring, as they have won two of their first three games.

Whittlinger, a junior, threw one-hitters as Johnsburg downed Richmond-Burton 13-1 and Round Lake 10-0. Johnsburg then fell to McHenry, 8-5. Whittlinger was the losing pitcher in that game. "She does not have the best control, but she throws hard," Johnsburg Coach Jim Meyers said.

Johnsburg, which is at Crystal Lake Central April 12, has several positions yet to be decided early in the year, Meyers said.

Against Richmond, Whittlinger struck out eight batters and walked just three and also had two hits. Shelly Brey was two-for-two.

Against Round Lake, Whittlinger had four strikeouts and walked nine. Senior Julie Klein had two hits and did senior Deb Seck, who had a two-run triple.

In the loss to McHenry, Whittlinger had eight walks, five strikeouts and the Warriors had 10 hits. Lori Szarek was two-four four.

"We had our opportunities," Meyers said.

"It was a real tough game and reminiscent of the sectional game when we went downstate," Wilhelm said of game one.

List ticket outlets for banquet to honor Ryan

Ten sales locations have been established where tickets will be available for the fourth annual Keith Ryan Scholarship Fund banquet April 18 featuring Otto Graham, a member of the National Football League Hall of Fame and one of the greatest quarterbacks ever to play the game.

Graham, a Waukegan native, will speak at the benefit being held in memory of Ryan, a long-time Lake County area radio and television broadcaster who died of cancer in 1988.

As a result of previous Ryan fund-raisers, for the past three years a $1,000 scholarship has been awarded to a student at the College of Lake County interested in pursuing a career in either print or broadcast journalism.

Tickets for the prime rib dinner banquet at the country Squire Restaurant in Grayslake are $27.50 apiece, two for $55, or $25 each for tables of eight to 10 people. They're on sale at the following locations:

Antioch, State Bank of Antioch, 440 Lake St.

Grayslake, The College of Lake County Foundation office on the Grayslake campus.

Libertyville, The Sportsman, 608 N. Milwaukee Ave.

Park City, Waukegan Pizza Co., 3355 Belvidere Rd.

Waukegan, Mayor's office, City Hall, 106 N. Utica; Dr. John Schwab's office, 1906 Grand Ave; the athletic department offices of East High School, 1011 Washington St., and West High School, 2325 Brookside Ave.; Grand Sporting Goods, 1816 Grand Ave.

Graham, an all-state performer at Waukegan High and All-America in football and basketball at Northwestern University, led the Cleveland Browns to an unmatched 10 consecutive league championship games, four in the All-America Football Conference and six in the NFL. Cleveland won seven of those title games while compiling an overall record of 105 victories, 17 losses and 4 ties, a .849 winning percentage.

During that period from 1946 to 1955 Graham compiled impressive individual statistics, throwing for more than 23,000 yards and 175 touchdowns with a completion record of almost 54 percent.

Graham's varied athletic career also included playing a year of pro basketball with the Rochester Royals, coaching the Washington Redskins and College All-Stars and serving as athletic director at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy.

In 1990, Inside Sports Magazine selected Graham as the finest pro quarterback ever over Joe Montana, who directed the San Francisco 49ers to four Super Bowl victories in the 1980s.

Another feature of the evening will be induction into the Waukegan Sports Hall of Fame of two more persons who have contributed to the area athletic scene.

Banquet to laud two

Ray Cote, one of Waukegan High School's greatest all-around athletes and Lou Jacobs, a Lake County prep sports broadcaster for almost 30 years, will be inducted into the Waukegan Hall of Fame as part of the Keith Ryan Scholarship Fund banquet April 18.

Otto Graham, National Football League Hall of Famer and featured speaker at the event at Country Squire Restaurant in Grayslake, was the first inductee into the Waukegan Hall, sponsored by the Waukegan Lions Club. Ryan, a radio and television announcer who died of cancer in 1988, received the honor posthumously last year.

The Ryan fund awards a $1,000 scholarship to a student interested in pursuing a career in either print or broadcast journalism.

Although a versatile athlete, Cote, 86, distinguished himself most on the basketball court where he was a four-year starter and led Waukegan High to within a game of the state tournament in both 1924 and 1924, losing in the sectional finals to eventual state champion Elgin. He was Suburban League scoring champion in both years and in 1925 was named most valuable player in the conference.

Jacobs, a confessed lifelong sports "junkie", got his start behind the microphone in 1950 when he was a junior at Waukegan High. He became the public address announcer at both the football and basketball games.

Jacobs graduated from Northwestern University in 1955 with a degree in speech, majoring in radio and television. Rather than pursue a communications field job full-time he settled on a career as a teacher and has been in the Waukegan school system for 34 years.

Sequoits start with five wins

Strong pitching couple with timely hitting will get a team far in softball, just ask Antioch Coach Judy Smithhisler.

The Sequoits have combined both ingredients in the first five games of the year, and the end result is a 5-0 record and momentum for the upcoming North Suburban Conference season.

The Sequoits' latest victims were Grayslake by a 10-3 count and, an 8-3 win over Grant and a sweep of Fremd.

Antioch took the Fremd doubleheader 11-0 and 28-4. Robin Horton was the winning pitcher in game one while Ginger Skarve won in game two. Janelle Macki had two triples and two walks in game one while Linda Stark had five RBIs in game two.

Against Grant, Horton

again picked up the win, striking out three, giving up four hits and walking two. Antioch had a 12-hit attack as Macki had two hits.

"Everybody is hitting the ball well and we are getting good pitching," Smithhisler said.

Antioch battles Libertyville in back-to-back games this week. Antioch is home April 11 and at Libertyville April 12.

Learn to relax!

How to use relaxation techniques to reduce stress

April 24, 1991 7-8 p.m.

Presented by:

Richard Cohen, Ph.D.

Staff Psychologist

Saint Therese Medical Center

Have you ever heard the expression, "pain in the neck"? Usually, this refers to some person or situation that is stressful or bothersome in some way. The origin of this phrase is clear: stress often causes unwanted and seemingly uncontrollable muscle tension. In addition to "pain in the neck," stress can cause headaches, backaches and gastrointestinal disorders. In this presentation, you can learn a simple, but surprisingly effective exercise to help rid your body of uncomfortable muscle tension and to help you relax.

Dr. Cohen is a clinical psychologist on the staff of Saint Therese Medical Center and is in private practice in Gurnee

FORRESTALL

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 74'-0" X 59'-0"
LIVING: 3856 square feet
GARAGE: 636 square feet

FORRESTALL (209-19)
By Landmark Designs, Inc.

The Forrestall is a large, informal family home. It is designed for construction on a view lot that slopes to the rear. All of the rooms along the back of the home are richly windowed for full appreciation of the vista, and the huge daylight basement has space for a family room, bathroom and three bedrooms.

This is a home to grow in. If finances are tight, and/or three bedrooms are sufficient, the basement level could be left unfinished during the first phase. Then it could be developed later as more living space is needed. If not needed for bedrooms and a family room, the basement could just as easily be redesigned for use as a studio, shop and office, or whatever.

The foyer opens opposite a living room that is virtually awash in natural light. The far wall is almost completely filled with windows, and the room is further brightened by four skylights. A half-wall, topped by columns, partially separates the living room from the foyer.

Family living will quite naturally gravitate to the comfortable family room/kitchen. Long counters offer plenty of elbow-room for group cooking projects, and the L-shaped eating bar can easily accommodate numerous eaters. Although the home has no formal dining room, the bay window is a natural place for an eating nook. Hanging plants will flourish there as well. Other features include a fireplace, step-in pantry and built-in desk.

A half-bath at this end of the house is as convenient to the garage and the huge utility room as it is to the family room. The master suite and two bedrooms are located at the opposite end. Amenities in the master suite include a bay window sitting area, walk-in closet and double vanities. The two remaining bedrooms share a bathroom.

For a study plan of the FORRESTALL (209-19), send $7.50 to Landmark Design, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering.) Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Supt. Bill plans trip to Baltic education forum

Dr. Ruth Bill, Supt. of Grass Lake School Dist. 36, Antioch is planning and organizing a trip for educators and other interested parties to Lithuania at the request of the Vilnius Pedagogical Institute in cooperation with the Minister of Education and Culture of the Lithuanian Republic.

The educators have been asked to give a three day Baltic-wide seminar on a variety of topics such as the organization of public education in the United States with emphasis on Illinois; special education services and program needs of special children; use of technology in education; site-based management; and problems facing education to name a few. Eastern European participants from Lithuania, Estonia, and Latvia have been invited to participate and to interact with the American educators.

Among the presenters are: Dr. Bill, Diane Ashby, Illinois State of Education; Dr. Grohe, Supt. of Iowa City Community Schools, Iowa City, Iowa; Gail West, college teacher and consultant; and Laima Salcius, teacher.

The seminar group will be leaving June 18 and arriving in Vilnius, Lithuania on June 19. The participants will spend the next three days visiting historic sights in Lithuania as guests of the Pedagogical Institute. Opportunities for informal discussion on topics important to both Lithuania and the United States will be offered.

The seminar will be June 24 to 26 and represent the first time that American educators have been asked to give seminars to their Baltic counterparts. It also represents the formation of new ties and educational sharing between these Eastern European countries.

Slow Drains?

You'll never have a slow running or clogged drain again!

The secret? Clean drains don't run slow. Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of "gook" is choking your pipes. This gook coats the entire length of your pipe-from sink to sewer/septic.

Conventional drain openers cannot remove this build up. Even a small tunnel through the waste lets them flow through the pipe, leaving the gook behind!

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes like new...and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That allows it to liquify even years of build up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, PlumbClean is money-back guaranteed!

Save Money. a 1 lb. container of PlumbClean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, you would have to buy over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safety. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some, may damage you fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course all plumbing.

So, if your pipes are signalling you, get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today!

General Schwarzkopf responds to CLC radio show

Lisa Chester (Waukegan) and Jerry Woods (Lindenhurst), disc jockeys of WCLC, the student run radio station at the College of Lake County, were thrilled to receive a personal "thank-you" letter from U.S. Army General H. Norman Schwarzkopf for their efforts to cheer up the American troops in the Persian Gulf.

"We were ecstatic when we got the letter. We screamed and hugged each other. We did not expect anything like this to happen. All the hard work we put in was worthwhile," said Chester, who is WCLC's promotion manager.

The hard work included a week of activities which were dedicated strictly to the troops.

"We interviewed students, faculty and staff for their views and opinions; played songs related to war; made a 25 foot banner with messages; and wrote letters," explained Woods.

Chester and Woods, both CLC students, sent audio tapes of their show to the Commanding Officer's address they found in the Dear Abby column of the Chicago Tribune.

"For a while we had doubts whether the troops had received our tapes or not. We hoped they did," said Chester.

But less than a month after mailing the tapes, Chester received the letter from General Schwarzkopf who expressed his appreciation to the entire CLC community for sending tapes, photos, letters and banners to the men and women of Operation Desert Shield. The tapes were played several times in the recreation center at a compound in Riyadh which housed 6,000 troops.

"I learned from this experience that anything can work as long as you care about it," said Chester.

NEUROMAS--A CONSTANT SOURCE OF FOOT PAIN

Morton's neuroma is an incredibly painful condition affecting the foot. A neuroma is a thickening and/or swelling of the sensory nerve of the foot. The pain from a neuroma is episodic in nature, at first usually bearable, a sort of a dull stinging and burning sensation, which radiates to the 2nd, 3rd, 4th or 5th toes. Pain progresses, however, to a spiraling pain of excruciating level that radiates into the involved toes and feels like it's taking over the entire foot. It is often said that sufferers feel compelled to remove their shoes and to flex and massage their toes rapidly to gain relief.

Treatment of neuromas usually consists of conservative therapy such as alterations to the shoe, cortisone injections to the area, orthotic devices, which are custom arch supports.

If none of these measures work, surgery is the desired course of action and is the most effective in resolving the problem.

Should you experience a dull or severe burning pain in your foot especially in the areas of the base of the toes 2, 3, 4 or 5, please feel free to contact Dr. Lee Tisa for a NO COST CONSULTATION to discuss your condition.

Q. My friend wears one contact lens for seeing at a distance and another for reading and other close work. Is it okay to do that?

A. Yes. This is called monovision. It is a popular way to provide good vision at all seeing distances for people over 40, most of whom have presbyopia, a vision condition which affects reading vision and is part of the normal aging process. Many also need help to see clearly at a distance.

Bifocal contact lenses are another option but the prescription parameters are limited right now. So they won't work for everyone.

Most people can adapt to monovision. Those who need help only for seeing up close wear only one contact lens. Any type of contacts—hard, soft, gas-permeable and extended-wear—can be used with monovision.

People over 40 have more complicated vision demands than younger persons. It is important, therefore, to seek care from an optometrist willing to give your eyes the extra time and attention they need.

Get Arbor Day trees free from McDonald's

In his State of the Union Message last year, President Bush called for the planting of a billion trees each year for the next decade. To answer his call to action McDonald's restaurant and the American Forestry Assn.'s Global ReLeaf have launched a national program called "Let's Get Growing America."

Two weeks prior to National Arbor Day, McDonald's restaurants in Chicagoland and northwest Indiana and across the country will give away free tree seedlings (no purchase necessary) on Saturday, April 13 and Sunday, April 14. McDonald's customers who ask for a free tree seedling will also receive a planting container and brochure with step-by-step outdoor planting instructions.

"The program is also designed to help teachers and parents explain complex environmental issues like global warming in terms kids can understand," said Herb Bias, public relations chairman for McDonald's owners of Chicagoland and northwest Indiana. "Through 'Let's Get Growing America,' we hope to make it easy for kids and adults to help the environment by planting and caring for young trees."

In January, McDonald's and Global ReLeaf sent 60,000 elementary schools in Chicago and throughout the nation a "Let's Get Growing America" teacher's guide/poster to help educators increase environmental awareness among students and encourage kids to take action.

McDonald's introduced "Let's Get Growing America" last year as a five-market test program. The 1991 national roll-out will include more than 8,000 restaurants nationwide.

The American Forestry Assn., the oldest citizen's conservation organization in the United States, is committed to planting and caring for trees and forests. Through their Global ReLeaf program, the AFA brings together citizens, corporations and government to help ease the threat of global climate change.

Working to address stress

The meeting will be held Monday, April 15, at 8 p.m. at the Crossings Club House, 1100 Fremont Way, Buffalo Grove.

AAUW is open to anyone holding at least a 4-year degree from an accredited college or university. All prospective members are welcome and invited to attend. Call (708)634-3530 or (708)394-0632 for further details.

Home economics volunteers named by extension

Family members make dozens of decisions daily that affect the health and well-being of the family and community. Home economics programs conducted by University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service volunteers reached several thousand Lake County residents in 1990. Volunteers helped family members make informed choices relating to food and nutrition, consumer and environmental concerns, and community leadership.

Two Volunteers of the Year were recently named by Cooperative Extension for their contributions to the home economics program.

Margaret Sneesby of Gurnee has been a Cooperative Extension volunteer for 45 years and has served in many capacities, including holding offices in Lake County Homemakers Extension Assn., and as chair of the Extension Building Assn. which recently enlarged the educational center in Grayslake.

McHenry resident Betty Wertke has been a Cooperative Extension volunteer since 1962, serving home economics, homemakers and 4-H in many offices and on countless committees. "As a volunteer, I get more from it than I give," Betty says.

April marked month of sexual assault awareness

The National Coalition Against Sexual Assault has designated April as Sexual Assault Awareness Month.

The Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault (LaCASA) assists victims of sexual assault/sexual abuse and family members of victims. In addition to counseling, LaCASA provides services such as medical and court advocacy for victims of sexual assault and prevention programs for schools and community groups.

Sexual assault is sexual contact without a person's consent. Sexual assault includes rape, incest, attempted rape and unwanted sexual touch.

Sexual assault is a crime of violence. Women, children and men can be victims of sexual assault. In the United States in 1988, 92,486 sexual assaults were reported to police; in Illinois in 1988, 6,086 incidences of child sexual abuse were reported to the Illinois Dept. of Children and Family Services. It is estimated that only one in ten rapes is reported to police. The FBI estimates that a rape occurs every six minutes. One in three women will be raped in her lifetime. One study found that 38 percent of women had at least one experience of sexual abuse before the age of 18; 28 percent had one such experience before the age of 14.

For more information about sexual assault, Sexual Assault Awareness Month and counseling services provided by LaCASA, please call (708)244-1187.
